WESTBORO ANNEX

SSF Gains 550 Acres and 1700 New Residents

South San Francisco became 550 acres larger Saturday, and may soon be even larger.

Annexation of the uninhabited part of Westborough, approved a month ago by the South San Francisco city council, became fully effective Saturday at the end of a 30-day visiting period.

Due today, according to residents of the neighboring inhabited area, is a formal application to South San Francisco for another annexation.

There are approximately 1700 citizens in the area, represented by Ray Vetterlein, president of the Westborough Homeowners' association.

Vetterlein said he had been told the official papers completing the present annexation would not be filed with the state until yesterday, and that he would file a new application the following day.

There has been some speculation that the county's new Local Agency Formation commission might spring into action and become involved in the proceedings, but county courthouse observers rule this out.

A fifth member must be named to the commission before it becomes active, and the fifth man is to be chosen by the four existing members.

They scheduled a meeting Thursday to do this, but only two of them showed up and no further meeting has been scheduled.

Also concerned with the timing of the LAF commission are proponents of the Portola Valley incorporation plan, which also could become the first proposal to come to the new agency's attention.

The four members of the commission are Councilman Maurice Hamilton of San Bruno, Mayor William Lawson of Menlo Park, Supervisor Edward McDonald, and County Engineer [illegible].

It is understood that Hamilton was in Southern California until Monday, and he was scheduled to appear Monday night at the San Bruno council meeting.

The remaining three members of the commission, however, do cosntitute a quorum, and might conceivably call a special session to anme the fifth man.

If they do, the Westborough proceedings would have to go to them first.

'Hot Potato' Goes Back to Coast Council

By LOIS McNALLY

A political hot potato handed by Pacifica City Councilmen to a citizens' committee for decision is soon to be tossed right back into Councilmen's laps.

The committee studying freeway beautification versus billboards has prepared a lengthy report summarizing local opinion but "purposely refraining from drawing any conclusions."

Chairman Chris Bonner said, however, that all data the committee has gathered points to one conclusion—that the people of Pacifica want landscaping.

He said the committee had received seven petitions from a total of 18 citizens urging that the city apply for state landscaping funds.

The report, prepared at a committee meeting last week, points out that surveys in Pacifica indicate that "all groups" desire landscaping for the new Cabrillo coastal freeway "in one form or another."

The committee's report will go to individual committee members for final approval before distribution to the city council.

The report summarizes public opinion gathered at the committee's recent public hearing and from questionnaires sent out to individuals and community groups.

The report also includes all information collected on the state's regulations qualifying the city for landscaping funds.

The billboard-landscaping issue has sharply divided the city's businessmen and homeowners.

Businessmen have argued that most of Pacifica's commercial growth would come from out-of-town motorists using the freeway.

They have contended that off-premise business advertising signs were essential, especially for local restaurants, motels and retail establishments.

Chamber of Commerce officials have argued for partitioning of the freeway into landscaped portions with some sections, especially the Rockaway Beach area and Sharp Park, for advertising.

Other civic groups and individuals, including park, beach and recreation commissioners, have urged that city council prohibit all off-premise signs so that the city could qualify for state landscaping funds.

Laguna Post Has Eleven Candidates

Eleven persons are seeking to fill a vacancy on the Laguna Salada Elementary school board. They include three candidates defeated in last spring's school board election and a former board member.

Deadline for filing applications was last week. The Laguna Salada board was discussing its choice for Duncan Burdick's replacement at an executive session last week.

Burdick recently resigned, saying he needed time to study for a certified public accountant's examination.

Among those applying are: Dale Emde, 1327 Crespi drive and Mrs. Patricia Miller, 941 Rio Vista, who were defeated in their bids for a seat on the board last spring by Rodney Clark.

William Croman, a Laguna Salada board member for seven years, who ran unsuccessfully for the Jefferson Union High school board also is a candidate.

Two members of the American Association of University Women who have been active in community affairs and are interested in the post are Mrs. Judith Adams of 4 Ortega court and Mrs. Dorothy Edminster of 500 Hewitt avenue.

Other candidates are: Allen Parelius of 712 Bradford way, a new Pacifica resident of the Fairway Park area; Dale Buettenbach of 251 Lauren avenue, who has been active in the Vallemar P-TA, and Michael Haggerty of 274 Sterling avenue, also active in P-TA.

Also, Rene Cardinal of 4 Duran court, an unsuccessful candidate in last April's election; William Henderson of 1046 View Way and William Storie of 378 Bancroft Way.

John F. Kennedy

One of the blackest pages of history was written Friday when an assassin's bullet killed the President of the United States.

The whole world must join grief-stricken Americans in mourning this man whose boundless courage and vigor made him the champion of all who have sought to preserve peace in our time.

Yet in the time of this national tragedy and this blow to the hopes of all the peoples of the world, it is incumbent upon us to remember that President Kennedy's own life and character were living testimony that never-ceasing effort is the prime necessity for attaining the goals of peace and freedom to which he was devoted.

Thus, in the midst of our sorrow, his living career points to our duty to press forward to those great objectives to which he gave his devotion and his life.

This, alone, can be adequate memorial to John F. Kennedy.

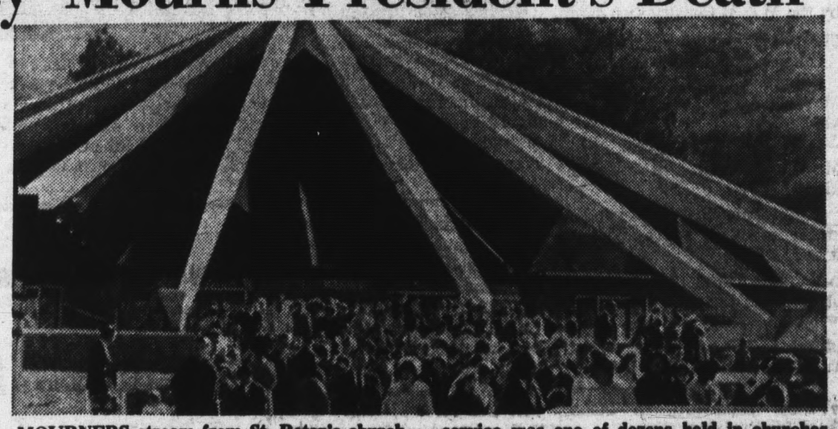
All of the mantle of world and national leadership, of carrying forward the torch of liberty in peace, and of lonely responsibility, has now fallen on the shoulders of our new President, Lyndon B. Johnson. His shoulders will need to be broad, indeed, to carry that sad and heavy mantle. Every loyal American must try to share it with him.

This is a time for Americans to gather ranks, to forget their differences, and to help President Johnson in the titanic tasks before him.

But, also, the hearts of humanity go out in sympathy and condolence to the wife and the family of our late President in their grieving. May it be of comfort to them to know that most Americans share in their personal sorrow and bereavement.

The life of John F. Kennedy has ended. But life for America must go on as he would have wanted it to go on.

N. County Mourns President's Death



MOURNERS stream from St. Peter's church in the Round in Pacifica after a memorial mass for President John F. Kennedy. The service was one of dozens held in churches and synagogues throughout the North County to honor the memory of the late president. (Post-Times Photo.)

Residents of the North county paused yesterday to mourn the death of the President.

City offices, schools, and businesses closed their doors to permit employees to take part in a number of special services at churches throughout the area.

Flags on all government buildings were lowered at half-mast almost immediately after the President's death Friday.

Several residents in the area placed lowered flags in front of their homes.

The Daly City council meeting, scheduled for last night, was postponed to next Monday.

Last night's scheduled meetings of the Jefferson Union High school district board and the Jefferson Elementary school district board also were postponed.

In South San Francisco, the Young Men's Institute No. 32 and Mayor Patrick Ahern conducted a public memorial for the President and a recitation of the rosary at South San Francisco Memorial park Sunday.

The Daly City Ministerial association held a special service, with all faiths taking part at the Broadmoor Presbyterian church at noon yesterday.

The normally busy huge Westlake Shopping center was quiet as all stores closed down and traffic throughout the area was minimal.

In Pacifica, a special service was held on the steps of the city hall by city, civic and fraternal organizations.

News of the assassination Friday stunned shoppers in the Westlake Shopping center. Business was almost at a standstill as tearful shoppers gathered around television sets, radios and newspaper stands.

One resident, Otto Goebel, 62, 448 Irvington street, Daly City, collapsed while watching news of the assassination on a television set at Vince and Fred's Annex at 6282 Mission street in Daly City. He was treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco and sent home.

Police officer John Kolbman said Goebel's wife told him Goebel had a serious heart condition.

Schools kept the students in classes after the news of the President's death was known.

Officials said that several parents worked during school hours and they could not be sure there would be someone at home to take care of children if they returned early.

In some schools, television sets were turned on in classrooms and auditoriums so that the children and teachers could view television coverage of the shooting.

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, president of the San Mateo county Council of Mayors, held a regular scheduled Friday meeting of the group at the Villa Chartier. It was adjourned almost immediately in memory of the President.

Only one action was taken. A telegram was sent to the Kennedy family expressing sorrow of the group.

EROSION CONTINUES

Thornton Beach Road Is Closed By Slide Threat

A landslide Sunday morning along the Old Coast Highway has forced the closing of the road to Thornton Beach.

City Engineer William Chapman ordered a barricade placed at the top of traffic signals at Alemany after he determined the slide was undermining the beach access route.

"The road will remain closed until some major reconstruction work is completed by the State Division of Parks and Beaches," Chapman said.

Visitors to Thornton Beach will have to park their cars at the top of the hill and use a pedestrian pathway to walk down to the beach, Chapman said.

He was sent to the scene at 10:30 a.m. by an official of the State Division of Highways to determine if the landslide had endangered homes located above the Old Coast road.

After making an on-the-scene examination and then viewing the area by helicopter, Chapman said evacuation of the homes was "not necessary at this time."

There are two slides in the area, Chapman explained—one near the homes and the other near the Thornton Beach road.

The northernmost slide, away from the homes, is the one that began moving Sunday, he said.

Chapman said he could see earth moving as he was making his investigation.

Sunday's slide was a continuation of a problem that has concerned Daly City for about a year.

Two weeks ago, homeowners above the Old Coast highway appeared at a city council meeting to ask for help. The erosion has advanced to within one foot of one resident's back yard.

The problem began when the state abandoned the Old Coast highway and stopped maintaining it, Chapman told the council then.

The drain basins became clogged with silt. Water, running overland, began undermining the cliff. A series of small slides has resulted in the present situation.

At one point along the Old Coast highway, the road completely dropped away and the state barricaded it at two ends.

The city has never accepted

Planners to Hear Rezone Application

Another controversial rezoning request from E. T. Komsthoeft of San Carlos on Wellington street will be aired at 8 tonight at the Daly City Planning commission meeting in City Hall.

Komsthoeft is requesting rezoning of 10 lots on Wellington street between Winchester and Hanover streets from single family to multiple dwelling zoning.

Several residents in the area appeared at the commission's last meeting to protest a similar request from Komsthoeft for apartment zoning on the south side of Brunswick street between Wellington avenue and Hillside boulevard.

The commission approved the rezoning from single family but held over Komsthoeft's tentative map until the developer could work out an access road problem with the city engineer.

John J. Estrada and Edward J. Lybrand of San Francisco have applied for permission to construct an apartment building in an unclassified district on the east side of Rio Verde street, north of Geneva avenue.

The commission also will act on a use permit filed by Fred E. Teaff of 2614 Geneva avenue, for refrigeration sales and service.

M&M Construction company of San Francisco is asking for a reduction of the front yard setback requirement to two feet on four lots at the northeast corner of Thiers street and Wyandotte avenue.

Permits for signs at five businesses will also be studied. They are at: 6165 Mission street, 7096 Mission, 6811 Mission, 6264 Mission and 175 Southgate avenue.

City Resident Requirement Stays Same

The Daly City personnel board has turned down a request to extend the resident to Broadmoor and Colma.

In a 3-2 vote, the board vetoed a move to permit employees to live in Broadmoor.

City employees are given a year and a half to take up residency in Daly City. They have one year to move and a half year to find permanent residence.

In other action the board voted to bar department heads from attending promotional examinations of their employees.

The department heads are now permitted to sit in on open examinations in which new employees are being hired.

The board set December 18 as the date for a promotional examination for the new position of assistant fire chief.

PACIFICA COUNCIL

Controversial Agenda on Tap

Back on Pacifica City Council agenda this week are several items carried over from the November 13 meeting at which only three councilmen were present.

Mayor Harold Feyge was absent then when his wife underwent surgery and Councilwoman Jean Fassler was ill with the flu.

Among controversial matters to be discussed are:

A resolution barring racial discrimination by city-supported community groups.

A report on the American Association of United Nations, prepared by the local branch of the American Association of University Women.

A possible second gas station for the Sanchez Adobe neighborhood.

A small animal hospital proposed for Sharp Park.

Gordon Hansen is applying for reclassification of Brighton road property in Sharp Park to permit the building of a small animal hospital.

Alfred Bertolino is requesting a rezoning to tear down a home at 985 Linda Mar boulevard to build a gas station on the site.

The gas station in a residential neighborhood and near the historical Sanchez Odobe monument, would be directly across the street from the controversial Union Oil station built after City Council lost a long legal battle to halt it.

The station has been in operation for several months.

Also on City Council agenda for approval this week are the final map of Linda Mar subdivision 32 and Fairmont 3, and the lands of Del Rosso, a small area on Peralta road adjacent to Pacifica Gardens.

City attorney Conrad Reisch will report on the city's continuing battle to abate an alleged nuisance caused by a ranch's trucking garbage through thr city.

H.O.E. Grading company is applying for a permit to remove sand along the right-of-way of the old coast highway.

Pacifica civil defense director disaster council is recommending the city contract for emergency use in evacuations of a Half Moon Bay helicopter service.

Recreation For Summer Is Reviewed

It was a time to catch up on what's been happening for the past three months at a Daly City recreation commission meeting recently.

The commission, which normally meets on the fourth Tuesday of the month, hadn't met for three months because of various reasons. When members finally got together, they heard a series of reports on the recreation program by department head Charles Vincent, Supervisor Edward Tomasello and Alan Boyd.

Final figures on summer program attendance were reported by Vincent. A total of 31,168 youngsters attended special classes put on during the 10-week period. The playgrounds drew 98,709.

City Manager Edward Frank, who made a surprise appearance at the meeting, suggested the figures be sent to local school boards.

A letter of commendation of the summer program from Daly City resident Mrs. George Garcia was acknowledged and forwarded to the city council.

Tomasello reported on a new intramural program initiated at Colma Intermediate school on a cooperative basis with the recreation department.

The program is designed to take care of many more participants, Tomasello said. In the past, the school had sponsored one team.

"All efforts are being directed now to reach more boys in the school rather than the outstanding athletes," he said. "There are six teams now where originally there was one."

The program is being conducted at Colma school by Tom Pollicita and Bob Manini. The first project was touch football, Tomasello said. The teams are now playing soccer.

Tomasello also reported on touch tackle football leagues in competition after school and on weekends.

A new bicycle program has been initiated and has met with "good response" by both children and adults, Tomasello said. "It looks like the program will be successful."

Boyd, who is responsible for the teen program in Daly City, reported on a teen carnival and a coeducational volleyball league.

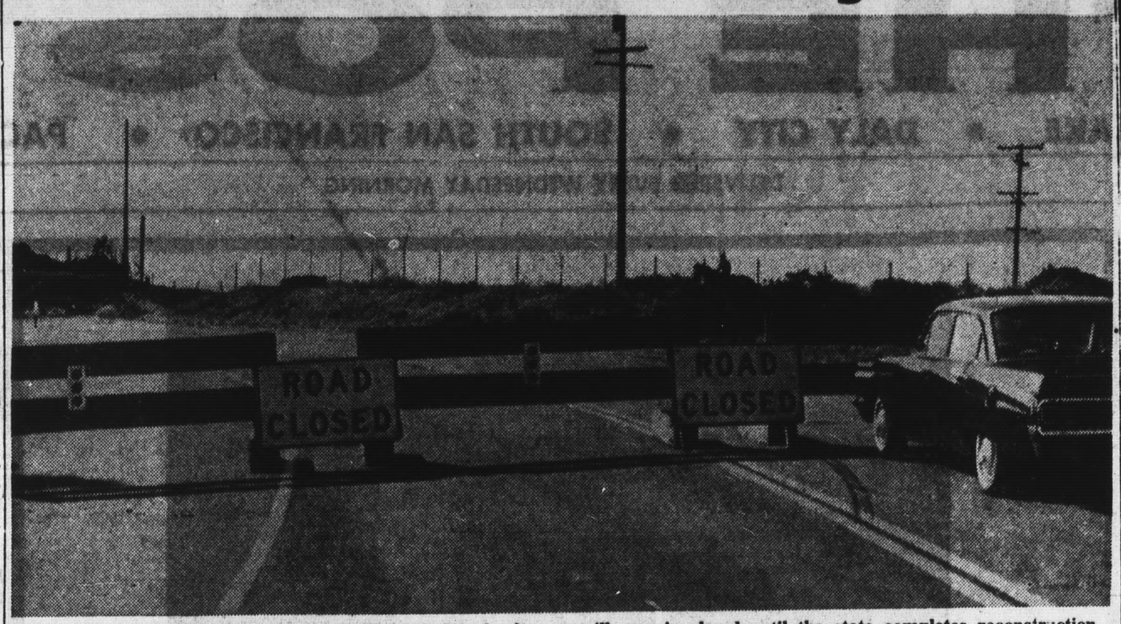
The carnival drew an estimated 2,000 persons to the War Memorial Community center.

Boyd also brought the commissioners up to date on the teen drama class, which meets Saturday mornings at the Westmoor park clubhouse from 9 a.m. to noon.

The class, under the direction of Nedra Merrick, is working on a play called "The Clown Who Ran Away." Production is set for early 1964, Boyd said.

Boyd said he is conducting a survey at Westmoor High school to see what the high school students want in their program.

Slides Force Road Closing



'ROAD CLOSED' signs bar the way to Thornton Beach after two slides along the Old Coast highway nearby undermined the beach access road. Visitors to the beach are requested to park their autos at the top of the access road. The road will remain closed until the state completes reconstruction work, according to William Chapman, engineer for Daly City. (Post-Times photo)

BAYSHORE SCHOOLS

Board Opposes Debt Proposal

Trustees of the Bayshore school district have voted to oppose a proposal in a schools unification plan that would have the combined district assume the debt of each district entering the combined unit.

The Bayshore district does not have any outstanding debt. Trustees, therefore, believe that residents of their district should not be saddled with the debt of other districts after unification.

The San Mateo county committee on school reorganization will meet January 9 to vote on a plan to unify five North County districts.

A vote had been scheduled early last month on a proposal. It was delayed to allow the committee more time to obtain information on estimated population growth in the North county and on the proposed developments of the former Christen and Crocker properties.

Bayshore trustees also have voted in favor of having board members of a unified district elected from specified areas within the district rather than at-large...

In other action, the trustees heard a report from superintendent of schools Natalie Lipman that the administration is providing budget information to a teachers' salary committee for the committee's use in preparing salary proposals.

The teachers' group will propose a new salary schedule at the board's February meeting.

Beach Road Is Closed

the road from the state, Chapman stated.

He said the reason the state abandoned the road was because it was too expensive to maintain. He said attempts by Daly City to stop the erosion would be "a great expense."

Prescription Is Falsified

A Pacifica woman and a woman companion from San Francisco were charged with possession of a false prescription and petty theft last week by Daly City police.

Arrested were Patricia J. Kerns, 29, of 95 Clarendon road, Pacifica, and Barbara D. Bon, 38, of San Francisco.

Investigators said the suspects had presented a prescription for 100 benzedrine tablets to Richard Robinson of 178 Crestwood drive, Daly City, a pharmacist at Walgreen's Drug store in the Westlake Shopping center.

While the suspects waited for the tablets, they walked through the store and one of them placed several cartons of cigarettes in her purse and left, police said. She was apprehended by another store employe.

Police said the doctor whose name was on the prescription reported that he had not written the prescription.

'Hot Potato' Handed Back

ents have argued that Pacifica's greatest asset is its scenery and that it should be preserved.

The committee decided not to take a stand, Bonner said, because members felt they could get "more mileage" out of a report that would be "strictly factual and not controversial opinion."

Bonner said the committee had been appointed by the park, beach and recreation commission to gather information and report back and that members had accomplished a very thorough job.

Members of the freeway sign committee are: Mrs. Sally Borras, Mrs. Leah Sharp, Mrs. Becky Goranson, Lyle Plane, Francis Brydon, Jack and Chris Bonner, the chairman.

Bystander Hit By Shot In S.S.F. Fight

A laborer was injured last weekend in a Dallas-type shooting near a South San Francisco pizza parlor.

Alberto P. Contreras, 527 Railroad avenue, was walking past 415 Linden avenue at 11:15 Friday night, police say, when the edge of a sudden shotgun blast caught him in the face.

Slightly wounded he was taken to Kaiser Foundation emergency hospital, transferred to County General, and again transferred to Sequoia hospital. He was reportedly not in serious condition, with shotgun pellet wounds on the right shoulder and face.

Police say the shooting occurred when Glen Porter Arbasetti, 18, a student, and Ronald Lee Weber, 18, a factory worker, were leaving a pizza cafe.

Arbasetti and Weber were arrested on charges of assault with a deadly weapon. Weber was being held in county jail. Arbasetti was released on $1100 bail, posted by his father.

17 Building Permits Are Issued in D.C.

Seventeen building permits for construction estimated at $75,496 have been issued by the Daly City building inspector's office.

Included in the permits is one for the demolition of a mill and garage for Henry Doelger Builders incorporated on May fair drive.

Three homes at an estimated cost of $16,000 each will be built by the M & M Construction company on Wyandotte street.

Other permits were issued to:

Robert Gordon, 1380 South Mayfair avenue, to remodel a kitchen.

Lawrence Rosheim, 901 South Mayfair avenue, to remodel kitchen.

T. W. Pannell, 113 Alexander street, to repair stairs and balcony.

V. L. Flinn, 9 Fieldcrest street, to install patio cover.

Jesse Torrez, 158 Winchester street, to add two bedrooms and rumpus room in garage area.

Barton Development, 43 St. Francis boulevard, to install front for hardware store.

Mrs. Dorothy Frazee, 169 South Mayfair avenue, to add living and dining room.

Edith Craven, 133 Parkview street, to add aluminum siding.

Malcolm Brock, 36 Pacifica avenue, to add basement room.

Chicken Delight, 6712 Mission street, to install sign.

Ruby Anderson, 6055 Mission street, to add asbestos siding.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wilner, 182 Westline drive, to construct study and family room in basement.

JOURNEYING south of the county line to invite San Mateo county residents to attend the Commodore Sloat school "Country Carnival" Saturday, December 7 are from left to right, front to back, Nancy McBride, Tracy Kulvin, Scott Robertson, Mrs. Robert McBride and Mrs. Jack Robertson. On hand to receive the invitations are Mrs. Laurence Rogers and sons David and Keith of Vista Mar school in Daly City. The Commodore Sloat school is at Nineteenth avenue and Ocean streets in San Francisco. (Post-Times photo)

YOUTH-IN-GOVERNMENT

They 'Bought' Pedro Beach

Thirty-two Oceana and Terra Nova High school students took part in Youth-in-Government Day at Pacifica city hall last week.

In a mock City Council meeting Tuesday afternoon the youthful participants, assigned posts as elected officials, city employees and citizens, tackled an actual problem: whether or not the city should purchase Pedro Beach for public use.

After an hour and a quarter discussion, the mock city council decided by a vote of 4 to 1 to buy the beach rather than allow it be developed by private and commercial interests.

The students spent Tuesday morning in city hall offices with their counterparts in government — learning the respective duties and responsibilities of city officials.

City manager Karl Baldwin lectured the entire group on the structure of city government. City attorney Conrad Reisch addressed the students at a luncheon at Nick's restaurant, which was sponsored by the Rotary club.

Participating from Oceana were Erral Andrews, Shirley Babb, Marilyn Berg, Jeanne Brown, Susan Deck, Alan Ferguson, Greg Hutchins, Cheryl McKay, Pat Mohr, James Phillips, Nancy Ray, Kathi Sleger, Gloria Wepprecht and Steve Williams, John Snyder and Roger Shnetgrund.

Terra Nova students included(Rick Ballow, Judy Bendick, James Carr, Claudia Davis, Cheryl Crisp, David Archibald, Kathy Drake, Marty Coil, Mariann Flynn, George Mason, Cathy Reed, Sandra Shade, Joe Higgins, Karen Taylor and Hobby Terranova.

Recreation Pact Signed by SSF

San Bruno Park and recreation commissioners have ironed out an agreement with South San Francisco schools, and extended one with San Bruno schools.

The South San Francisco agreement gives that school district the use of five acres of San Bruno park property in the Monte Verde tract, when a long-term lease is approved by the city council.

The school district, which owns five acres within San Bruno city limits and adjacent to the San Bruno park land, has agreed to turf and equip the park's five acres.

San Bruno will provide maintenance.

It has been pointed out that at least half of the youngsters who can be expected to use the park will come from nearby Westborough subdivision in South San Francisco, no matter what city operates the park. San Bruno's park commission has traditionally co-operated with school districts for joint use of facilities, and have renewed their agreement with the local system.

School trustees agreed to continue contributing $6500 per year toward park operation, as well as making school facilities available for recreational use. In addition, the school board this year will contribute $3000 toward maintenance of the Belle Aire school park.

Trustees asked the park commission to consider making available swimming facilities, so that swimming classes can be offered as part of summer school.

A committee was appointed to look into possibilities of teenage dances, after discussion with representatives of the San Bruno Youth Activities organization. That group is considering moving back to the local armory, after losing use of other facilities.

The commission approved a new set of bleachers for the swimming pool, and has forwardeed this recommendation to the city council.

Harley Wins Speech Award

Ed Harley won the "Best Speaker's Trophy" at the regular Thursday morning meeting of the Daly City Toastmasters club in the Westlake library at 7 a.m.

Harley, who spoke on "Alcoholism or Orphanages," beat out John Casey and Ernest Casados for the honor.

Max Cologna served as toastmaster for the day and Jay Begun was table topics chairman.

Harrol Shelton of 150 Coronado street was initiated into the club by Administrative Vice President Robert Hatton. Shelton became the sixth new member initiated into the club in the past three weeks.

The program was the first regular meeting since the club concluded its eight-week Speechcraft program.

Woman's Auto Strikes Car Being Investigated

A Daly City woman was charged with drunken driving early Friday morning after her auto struck a parked car that, together with its owner standing a few feet away, was being investigated at the time by a Daly City policeman.

Arrested was Mrs. Marguerite Wieland, 44, of 64 Westline drive.

The parked car, owned by Gordon S. Dunn of San Rafael, was parked in front of 969 Skyline drive.

Daly City police had received a complaint from Skyline drive residents of a number of men soliciting subscriptions after midnight for an encyclopedia.

Patrolman Edward Guzman responded and while he was questioning one of the men, their parked auto was struck by Mrs. Wieland's car.

On November 8, Mrs. Wieland's house was struck by a runaway pickup truck while she was sleeping.

On October 26 of last year, she was charged with being drunk in and about an auto after her car jumped a curb and struck a house at 499 Southgate avenue.

She later was given a suspended $100 fine and placed on three months probation.

Education Is Key, Says Bircher

By RON BATES

"EDUCATION is the key to reverse the swing to the left, which is sweeping us into the hands of the Communists," the Daly City Toastmasters club has been told by a high ranking official of the John Birch society.

Hugh Fine, co-ordinator of the society in the six counties bordering San Francisco bay, spoke to the Toastmasters' club at its regular Thursday morning meeting at the Westlake library.

Fine outlined the origin, the organization and the aims of the John Birch society and explained some of the society's stands on current issues.

He said a general presentation of the society would include a movie entitled, "A Look at the Score," which shows how founder Robert Welch "called the shots" in the society's Blue Book, drafted in December of 1958.

Welch predicted Castro in Cuba, the FLN in Algeria, Cheddi Jagan in British Guiana, Sukarno in Indonesia and even the situation in Vietnam, Fine said.

THE SOCIETY is an authoritative body, the co-ordinator said, with the grass roots membership following the directives of Welch and a 28-man advisory council, which meets every three months to evaluate national and international events.

The grass roots do not have any say in policy formation, Fine said, except in a monthly message sheet in which they make constructive criticism. "They're like the spotters in a football game," he noted.

Today we are witnessing Communists at work diligently to create chaos at all levels to make their takeover as easy as possible," Fine said.

He cited civil rights as an example. The society has published a book called, "The Invasion of Mississippi," by Carl Lively Jr.

The book traces the activities and the court decision leading to the time when James Meredith enrolled at the University of Mississippi.

One of the aims of the society, Fine stressed, is to limit the size of government and to promote "individual responsibility."

He said the Senate investigation of army "muzzling" in 1962 was an example of how the society got reaction from congress.

"If 100 people wrote letters to their congressman on 100 different subjects, nothing would be done," he said. "But if those 100 people wrote to the congressman on the same subject, you would get results."

On the muzzling incident, about 150,000 letters poured into Washington. A large part of the letter campaign was initiated by the society, Fine said, and it resulted in nine volumes of testimony.

In another society book, author Maj. George Jordan, tells of the Russians loading a plane, supposedly with lend-lease material, in 1942. Jordan stopped them at gunpoint and opened the boxes.

"In the material, which included top-secret papers on the Manhattan Project (the atomic bomb) and samples of U-235 (uranium), was a note on White House stationery," Fine explained. "The note read in part . . . 'I had a rough time getting this stuff,' signed H.H."

Jordan, checking the chain of command, eventually wound up with President Roosevelt's aide, Harry Hopkins, who told him to forget what he saw and let the Russians go.

FINE EXPRESSED these society viewpoints:

Integration — The problem should be settled on the local level with no interference from the federal government. The society has some integrated chapters and some all-Negro chapters. The supreme court is legislating through judicial process.

Eisenhower — Welch's statement that Eisenhower is an "active agent of the communist conspiracy" was taken out of context from an 80,000-word document.

Fine said Welch had said Eisenhower was one of three things: A clever, astute politician who used the Communists to get the presidency; a bungling farm boy surrounded by some clever people who manipulated him, or an active agent of the Communist conspiracy."

The society co-ordinator said "it shows how the mass communication media controls the thinking of the people."

He added the 80,000-word document is now in book form, entitled "The Politician," and hardly anyone knows about it.

Eisenhower was responsible for holding Allied troops 50 miles from the Balkans so the Communists could take over those eastern European countries, Fine charged. He was also responsible for rounding up several thousand known anti-communists and shipping them back to the Communists.

The sale of wheat to Russia —"Food is a strategic weapon," Fine said, "and the sale of wheat from government to government is furnishing the enemy with a means by which he can peasants will still starve as they keep his army well-fed. The have since the Communists took over in 1917."

The test ban treaty — The three-phase program proposed by Kennedy and passed by congress is the same thing Khrushchev proposed at the United Nations in 1959. "It doesn't appear wise to us to give control of our military forces to the Communists," Fine said.

Jet Protests Growing

Residents near the San Francisco International airport think the jet noise is too loud and will prove it in court soon if something isn't done, says Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan.

Ryan, former mayor of South San Francisco, released a letter he wrote to Ted Huggins, director of the airport, in response to requests for help from residents of South San Francisco, Daly City, Pacifica, San Bruno and Millbrae.

He said the fundamental problem is that the city of San Francisco doesn't really believe the jet noise is too loud.

Ryan said noise from the jet taking off is completely unacceptable and unless the city and its officials are willing to face the problem, economic sanctions by the residents will seriously affect the operation of the airport.

Ryan said recent statements by Huggins indicated he (Huggins) had tried but failed to come up with an adequate solution. Ryan wanted details on noise reduction as a result of a longer runway and asked for the position of San Francisco officials on building more of them.

He took Huggins to task for stating that supersonic jets will be no noisier than the present jets, and may be quieter. Ryan said he can remember being told six years ago that the jets would be no noisier than propeller-driven aircraft. He asked if Huggins would be prepared to to bond the airport and San Francisco city with a guarantee.

Ryan pointed out that the state has no authority over flying aircraft and he was commenting in an unofficial capacity.

Motorcylist, Auto Collide

A 19-year-old Daly City motorcyclist suffered multiple injuries last week when his cycle and an auto collided on Hillside boulevard near Brunswick street in Daly City.

The cyclist, Robert Stack, of 45 Northridge drive, was given emergency treatment at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco and transferred to St. Francis hospital in San Francisco.

Police identified the driver of the car as Ralph E. Olcese, 18, of 68 Mateo avenue, Daly City.

Stack told investigators he had been unable to make a turn on Brunswick and to avoid hitting a parked car, had swerved into a driveway leading to a vacant field.

He lost control of his cycle in the field, continued over an embankment and bounced back into Brunswick street.

Student's Show At Spruce P-TA

Primary grades are planning on entertaining their parents at the general meeting of the Spruce P-TA tomorrow in South San Francisco.

Thanksgiving Day in story and song will be the theme of the program, which is produced by the children. The show is scheduled to start at 2:45 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

Hospital Board Meets Today

Regular monthly public meeting of the board of directors of the Peninsula Hospital district will be held today at 7 p.m., in the conference room of the hospital.

Reports on operation of the hospital for the month of October will be given by Administrator Richard R. Blaisdell.

PERHAPS sportsdom's most pitiful athlete is the second string pro quarterback, especially the one playing behind a Tittle or Unitas type.

This guy has more going against him than Christine Keeler at a convent.

A general rule of thumb in the pro game estimates that no matter how skillful a young quarterback may be, it requires about three years of at least fairly steady play before he's ready to call himself a competent professional quarterback.

Professional quarterbacking is not just throwing the ball. It's learning the plays, the moves of the receivers, the styles of the running backs, feeling the cadence, the rhythm, the cohesion of the total offense and not just his particular part in the picture.

The quarterback must automatically know the total and individual weaknesses of the opposing defenses, instinctively be able to switch calls in the middle of a count should something unexpected develop. In short, be totally aware of the nuances of the science of effective professional quarterbacking.

Learning this takes practice not just learned in game-condition scrimmaging, but in game-condition games.

So how often does the second string quarterback play?

If he's with a top team that can pile up large leads, he may get in a couple of series a week in which he's told, more often than not, not to "pour it on."

This is something he probably couldn't do anyway, even if he were to get his cramped legs and tight arms loose, because he'd likely be in with all of the other second stringers.

If he's with a poor team that is always far behind, he's fortunate because he may play a quarter or more a week. Fortunate, that is, if he considers watching the game from the ground rather than from the safe old bench a blessing.

If the second line QB is with an average team—and the majority of teams are average—he's worse off than ever because this type of team doesn't have the flexibility of a club either far ahead or far behind. So the poor slob may be lucky to see action on the kickoff team.

★ ★ ★

EVEN WITH perfect conditions, such as the starting quarterback out with a broken leg, the man being called cold off the bench is probably nervous and certainly rusty — as would be a guy called on to pinch-hit against Sandy Koufax — and his chances of impressing are virtually nil.

So what does a coach do? He immediately scans the free agent lists to see if he can pick up a discarded but experienced old pro to at least hand the ball off and our hero is soon back on the bench wondering what happened.

After a few years of this sort of treatment, a kid's bound to get discouraged and lose confidence.

We wonder how many potential greats have been lost because of this sort of situation. We wonder what would have been the fate of Johnny Unitas had not George Shaw been hurt and the Colts been forced to go to the Baltimore sandlots to come up with the "interim" Unitas.

★ ★ ★

WHICH LEADS us to another interesting point. Because a team may have a still-young top quarterback and has no wish to have another prime QB prospect languish on the bench when he could command some top future draft picks or a needed lineman, a team will sometimes deliberately carry a more-or-less mediocre quarterbacks.

The reasoning is that he'll be "wasted" anyhow but that they do need a body to fill that spot in case of dire emergency, which would mean their top man coming out only if the pulmotor got too heavy for him to carry.

But occasionally the top man must come out and you are thus presented with the irony of a mediocre quarterback getting the call over a promising one who just doesn't happen to be around anymore — probably just as much for economic reasons, incidentally, as for any other.

Back in the early and middle 1950s, the Rams, we believe it was, started the two-quarterback system because they didn't know what to do with both Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin. The system became a fad, and, we feel, more and better quarterbacks were developed in that era than at probably any other time in pro history. (Remember when Y. A. Tittle was splitting time with Frankie Albert?).

We can't see why potentially great ones, who might have had their opportunity less than a decade ago, should be deprived of it now.

Who knows. Maybe the answer is, after all, a professional — not collegiate — farm system, such as that developed by baseball.

★ ★ ★

END OF SEASON baseball statistics: If this is any consolation to Yankee fans, the Cardinals, statistically baseball's best-hitting team, could hit Sandy Koufax for a combined team earned run average of only 0.96. Only the Mets faired worse (0.29). At least the Yanks managed 1.5 runs during the World Series.

Surprise statistic of season's end is the fact that Koufax couldn't finish one of the five games he started against Milwaukee, which solved him better than any team in baseball — average 3.44 runs per game off him.

And here's one of our noteworthy definitions somehow left out of an earlier column: Definition of Giants . . . the Mets with talent.

All-League Teams Announced; Rams, Colts, SSF Dominate

Rams Land Eight on Two Teams

Defending North Peninsula league champions, the Westmoor Rams, wound up with the title and a lion's share of the selections in the All-League offensive and defensive teams.

The Rams captured eight of the available 23 positions, while runnerup South San Francisco landed seven men on the team.

El Camino, who finished third in the standings, had six men on the team. Jefferson and Oceana each placed one man on the teams. Terra Nova failed to get a single selection.

The teams were chosen by the six NPL coaches in a special meeting Thursday at Jefferson High.

A five-man offensive backfield was named when the coaches could not decide which of the top four running backs could be left out.

Of the five unanimous choices on the offensive team, four of them were Westmoor back Bruce Hix, fullback Dave players. They were quarterback Bruce Hix, fullback Dave Mahoney, tackle Bob Hansen and end Marc Mallinger.

Mahoney was the league's top rusher with 470 yards in 52 carries to his credit. He averaged nine yards per carry.

Ocean's halfback Tom Summy, lone shark named to the team, trailed Mahoney in the final tsatistics with 444 yards in 72 carries and 6.1 average.

The lone Jefferson man named to the team, end Ed Larios, was the league's top pass catcher. He snagged 20 passes for 382 yards and a 19.1 average.

Hix, the league's Most Valuable Player, was the top offensive ace with a total of 644 yards by passing and rushing.

South San Francisco's contribution to the offensive unit included the only sophomore named, halfback Greg Jones, who was third in the league in rushing. The other Warriors on the offensive team were center Jerry Tognetti and tackle John Francis.

Guard Bob Van Tassell of Westmoor and John LaSota of El Camino round out the offensive team.

On the defensive team the unanimous choises were Dale Abrams, Wayne Caton, Mark Avelar and Walt Harris of El Camino, Dan Hartman, Bob Hansen and Ron Baker of Westmoor and Joe Del Carlo, Bob Baptista and Dan Crowe of South San Francisco.

The only member of the team that wasn't unanimous was end Ron Davis of South San Francisco.

Hansen, incidentally, was the only person chosen to both teams.

Honorable mentions included, Ted Brodd, Steve McCaughey and Hoppy Andrews of Oceana, Bill Jones, Allan Schleup and Gary Santos of El Camino, Leo Gotelli and Rich Cuadra of Jefferson, Larry erguson and Marty Coil of Terra Nova and Larry Cervelli of South San Francisco.

NORTH COUNTY SPORT SCENE

IN FIRST YEAR

Sexton Named Coach of Year

BOB SEXTON
NPL Coach

El Camino Coach Bob Sexton was chosen Coach of the Year in the North Peninsula league by sportswriters in the North county.

Sexton narrowly edged Ram coach Pete Matasi for the honor. Matasi, who won his second straight NPL football crown, was edged out of the honor last year also.

Sexton replaced El Camino coach Tom McCormick as head football coach when McCormick went to the Minnesota Vikings to take an assistant coach's job. Sexton had been McCormick's line coach.

Although the Colts were tabbed in early season forecasts as a contender, no one took them seriously.

The Colts rolled over their first three opponents and saved the tough ones for the last.

The rugged El Camino defense held the South San Francisco Warriors to one touchdown, but the offense could not get the necessary touchdown to upset the Warriors. South San Francisco won 8-2.

The NPL crown was still in doubt up to final seconds of the last game of the season with Westmoor. An upset by the Colts would have given them a third share of the title.

As it turned out, Ram Paul McHale's run was the clincher as the Westmoor team won 13-6.

Prior to coming up against Al Camino, Matasi's "Green Machine" virtually rolled over the competition, averaging at least three touchdowns per game.

Can you name this car?

Here are some clues: (1) Its basketball-sized engine is air-cooled: doesn't need water or anti-freeze. (2) The engine is in the back, between the rear wheels. (Gives the car firm traction, handling and steering ease, quick response.) (3) It gets many more miles on regular gas than conventional cars; uses practically no oil between changes. (4) Its low-slung, racy-looking body was styled by a famous Italian designer—Ghia of Turin. (5) The car is built by an equally famous custom coachmaker—Karmann of Osnabrück. (6) Its engine and transmission and chassis are right out of the VW Sedan. (7) It's sold and serviced at your VW dealer's. (No $40 monthly tune-ups, no $100 carburetors.) (8) It's been referred to as "the most beautiful Volkswagen made." (9) Its initials read like an international cable code: VWKG.

Give up? It's the VW Karmann Ghia.

Sea Bowl

BEST WISHES for a very Happy Thanksgiving. I really don't know what we are doing this year, I can't pin my mother-in-law down long enough to toss a coin to see who is the lucky one to cook Thanksgiving dinner.

For the girls on bowl on the 3-6-9 and the Friday No-Tap from now until Christmas, we will have a drawing every Friday at 3:30 for a turkey. To qualify, you must bowl either day. You need not be present to win. Just be sure your name and telephone number is written on the back of your ticket.

New Year's Eve reservations are now being taken. The playroom will be open to accommodate the first 100 children.

League results: Sea Bowlerettes: Carol Allen, bowling on the Mac's Auto Repair team, had the high game of the day with a nice 187. Bette Baker had the high series of 178-457. Edith Leaf bowled a great big 163 in her first game. Keep up the nice bowling Edith! Mixed Masters: Lloyd Squires highlighted the league for both the high game and series with a great big 263-637. According to my figures, Lloyd topped all of the Sea Bowl leagues this week for the series.

★ ★ ★

Beachcombers: Red Perrier wrapped up the high game and series with a 238-602. Dick Krone, 209-541. What hoppened to my pal J.V.? Oh well, maybe that perty new ball you fell heir to will do magical things for you!

Wednesday Men's "775": We at the Sea Bowl want to extend our wishes for a very rapid recovery for secretary of the league Roland Lewis who is at St. Luke's hospital in San Francisco. On the league, Bob Nelson was in the lead for both game and series with a 206-548. Carl Fontana and Norm Park tied for series with both fellows bowling a 511.

Mermaids: Marty Parker had the high series of 161-470. High game for the day was bowled by Gayle Harris, with a 175. Keglerettes: Audrey LaFevre scored high in both game and series with a 201-496. Other big games: Marie Baker, 183. Barbara Nauman, 160. Joanne Funk, 171. Peggy Edge, 190. Jean Marshal, 131.

Westlake Bowl

JACK BILLMIRE set a new league high game for a men's record as he rolled a 244 and Edna Cregan set a record for the ladies with 220 as they both exploded in the Canco league last Monday night.

"Big Al" Schreier led his Al's Texaco Station team and the Friday Mixed Fours league with a 557 series on games of 172-174 and 211 while June Tarczy topped the ladies with a 483 series on a high game of 185.

Louise Yaquinto led both the ladies in the TGIF league as she rolled games of 178-171-168 for a 517 series while Walt Carlsen's 202 game and 563 series topped the men.

Tomorrow marks the kick-off in the News Call-Bulletin Christmas Singles Classic with the first prize being a 1964 MG Sports Sedan. With a new format of six classes with bowlers of all averages being eligible. The qualifying round closes at 10 p.m. December 15 after which 25 per cent will be eliminated for the second round of play.

Marge Beaumont and George Freyslaben took top honors for the week in the Southgate Mixed Fives league as Marge rolled 187-531 and George posted a 233 game and 590 series.

With a big 236 game and an even 600 series, Ruth Noll led the Ladies' 810 Classic for the week.

Polly Kane led the Starliters league for the week with her 191 game and 518 series.

Doug Bartzial's 205 game and 588 series topped the 805 Scratch league.

Monday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. is "Learn to Bowl" time at Westlake as instructor Frank McCarthy conducts a weekly free instruction class for ladies.

Serra Bowl

BOTH LADIES and men will have an opportunity to compete in outstanding handicap tournaments during the coming weeks as the Northern California Team handicap tournaments are under way—the men's running until March 1, and the ladies ending January 12. Both tournaments are rich in prize funds with a low entry fee.

Orv Talmidge and Bob Florio were the high rollers for the Telco league Friday night as Orv rolled 223-569 and Bob 220-569. Secretary Len Heiser posted a 217 game.

Many Westlakers have added American's fastest growing participant sport to their accomplishments as ladies and men of the area visit the "Q" room for a period of relaxation.

Jim McGuirk won the $100 top prize in the first Weekend Handicap Sweeper, beating Hal Pruitt by 19 pins. Third place and $25 went to Irwin Penn for 829. Irwin also won a $10 bonus prize for posting high series in the Friday night squad. Next week the Weekend Sweeper will once again be held from midnight Thursday until midnight Sunday with $100 guaranteed first prize.

Many residents of the area are expected to be on hand Saturday for the Grand reopening and fifth anniversary party. There will be prizes and music.

OFFENSIVE LEADER

Hix Chosen Top Player

Westmoor's all-around athlete, senior Bruce Hix, was named by the Sportswriters of the North county as the Most Valuable Player in the North Peninsula league.

This is the second time he was named to the all-league team.

Hix, who graduates in June, was the league's top offensive leader despite the fact he was out of action for one game during the six-game campaign.

The stocky quarterback, who is only 5-9 and • weighs 160 pounds, hit an amazing 50 per cent of his passes by connecting on 21 of 42 attempts for 453 yards.

When he couldn't pass, the tricky quarterback ran. He collected 191 yards for the high-flying Rams in 29 tries to make the seventh ranking runner in the league. He averaged 6.6 yards per carry.

The cumulative total of rushing and passing gave him the offensive crown with 644 yards. The nearest person to him was his teammate in the backfield fullback Dave Mahoney.

Hix will be missed after graduation in the Rams' athletic program.

He was a key factor in the Rams' capture of the NPL baseball crown. His heavy bat gave him a .517 average, and he narrowly lost the batting crown to South San Francisco's Neil McNevin.

He was also a steady guard on the Ram basketball team last season, which also nabbed the NPL crown.

The all-around athlete has been eyed very closely by several major league baseball clubs, who will undoubtably breathe easier now that football season is over.

Hix had a shoulder bruise which kept him out of action against the Oceana Sharks.

Coach and His Ace

BRUCE HIX receives the congratulations of Westmoor coach Pete Matisi on winning the Most Valuable Player Award. This is the second consecutive year Matisi's Rams took the crown and Hix was a major factor both times.

CSM Chalks Up Mat Victory

College of San Mateo scored a 23-16 victory over the Stanford frosh in its first wrestling match of the season yesterday at Stanford.

The Bulldogs will meet Hartnell college tomorrow at 4 p.m. in a dual match hosted by CSM.

Entry Blanks For Tourney Available

Entry blanks for the second annual Daly City Yuletide Basketball classic sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department will be available beginning Tuesday at the boy's P.E. departments of Westmoor and Jefferson and from the Recreation department office.

The tournament is open to all high school boys attending school in Daly City or living in Daly City and not competing on varsity or 130s basketball teams.

The tournament will be single elimination with a consolation bracket for those teams defeated in the first round. All teams entered are guaranteed a minimum of two games.

The tournament will run the Monday, Thursday and Friday nights of the two-week Christmas holiday period. All games will be played in the War Memorial Community center gym beginning at 6:15 each evening of the tournament.

Giants Go In Training February 24

To tune up for the 1964 National league season, the San Francisco Giants will engage in seven weeks of spring training, beginning on Monday, February 24, it was announced at Candlestick park last week.

A 34-game exhibition schedule, topped by a Northern California valley tour—Fresno, Modesto, Stockton and Sacramento—will carry the Giants up to the National league inaugural against Milwaukee at Candlestick park April 14.

The entire squad is to report to the Giants' training base at Casa Grande Sunday, February 23, with the first workout scheduled by manager Alvin Dark for the next day. First game is with Cleveland, March 7, at Tucson.

Five teams will train in the Arizona area this year — the Giants at Phoenix, the Boston Red Sox at Scottsdale, the Chicago Cubs at Mesa, the Cleveland Indians at Tucson and the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

PLANS ARE ALREADY afoot to present one of the loveliest Christmas programs ever presented in Daly City during the coming holiday season, according to Patti Stolz, director of the Daly City Community chorus.

Entitled, "Christmas — Its Customs, Carols and Legends," the show will be presented in the War Memorial building December 19 and 20 and will present a good deal of the local teen-age dramatic talent as well as the beautiful voices of the members of the chorus.

Sure to be one of the evening's highlights will be the performance of Mary Dreyfus. Mrs. Dreyfus, who will be appearing for the first time with the choral assemble, has a remarkable coloratura voice, which remained undiscovered until she was 45 years old.

"People told her she was silly to begin studying voice at that age," Mrs. Stolz said, "but she went ahead despite that and now she is a veteran of many performances and her voice is truly marvelous. We are all very excited about her and very eager for our audiences to hear her sing."

MEMBERS OF the North Peninsula circle for the Florence Crittenton home are planning a very busy schedule for December according to Doris Plant, circle publicity director.

Next Wednesday, the members will hear Sister John Gabriel, director of the St. Elizabeth Home for Unwed Mothers in San Francisco, compare methods of care and discuss the differences and similarities between the Crittenton home and St. Elizabeth's home.

The meeting will be held in the War Memorial building at 10:30 a.m. and the public is urged to attend and hear Gabriel.

Christmas preparations will occupy much of the time of circle members from now on and at present they are collecting old liquor bottles, cigar boxes or decanters to be used by the girls in the home to make presents. Anyone wishing to donate boxes or bottles should bring them to the next meeting, Mrs. Plant said.

Later this month members of the local circle are planning to attend a black tie dinner dance at the Sheraton-Palace hotel in San Francisco, being given by the San Francisco circle to raise funds for the home.

Tickets to the affair, scheduled for Saturday night, are available for $25 per couple. Contact Kay Kleboe, PL 6-0408 to make reservations.

Many home-made dishes, house plants, needlework and many novel gifts will be offered at attractive prices to guests.

☆ ☆ ☆

HOME AFTER several days attending a Nursery School Directors convention at Disneyland is Mrs. John Madrosen of Daly City.

Commenting on her trip. Mrs. Madrosen was most enthusiastic about the convention but complained bitterly about the weather and thick smog.

☆ ☆ ☆

Over 1500 women are expected to be on hand when the Westlake Catholic Women of Our Lady of Mercy parish present their annual fashion show and luncheon Saturday, February 1.

The event, which will feature the latest in spring attire from the collection of H. Liebes and company, will be held in the Tower grand ballroom of the Fairmont hotel.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Women's societies of Christian service of both Wesley Methodist and Westlake Methodist churches will serve tea on Saturday, December 7, in Temple Methodist church in San Francisco.

Guests will enjoy refreshments and be treated to a boutique of Christmas items that are bound to solve the problems presented by the necessity of just the right "little gift" for holiday giving. Many lovely pieces of needlework will be on sale and of particular interest will be the hobby shop gifts. Local hobby fans have donated samples of their handiwork to be sold at the tea and those items are certain to excite the gift hunters.

Mrs. E. A Wolfe, chairman of the tea, is still collecting things for the hobby table and anyone interested in donating something is urged to contact her a PL 5-1230.

A.C.E. Head Plans Speech

Dr. Lucile Lindberg, president of the Association for Childhood Education International, will be the principal speaker at the December meeting of the Daly City Association for Childhood Education.

The meeting will be held in the multi-use room of Thomas Edison school, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Dr. Lindberg, professor of education, at Queens college in New York City, will speak on: "Concerns of Children are Worldwide." She is an internationally known educator who has travelled extensively throughout the world, studying systems of education and their effects on children.

Dr. Lindberg's address, will precede a question and answer period. An exhibit of children's books is planned. Christmas carols will be sung by the Thomas Edison Honor Glee club.

Mrs. Georgina Nyhan, president of the Daly City A.C.E., has announced two additional programs that the association will present.

January 28, in Fernando Rivera school, Mrs. Jean Oberlander and Mrs. Helen Cordell discuss two phases of international education—art and reading.

March 19, at Christopher Columbus school Dr. Samuel Kermoian will present slides and a discussion of UNESCO activities in Brazil.

The general meetings of the Daly City association are open to all persons who are interested in children, including teachers, administrators, parents and community workers.

Those interested in knowing more about the association, which is chartered and affliated with international and state associations, may contact Mrs. Louine Bostwick, membership chairman at Olympia school, WY 2-1000.

Workshop Offers The 'Caretaker'

The San Francisco Actor's Workshop production of Harold Pinter's, "The Caretaker" has opened a limited run, ending December 7, in Marines' Theater. Performances are Wednesdays though Sundays nightly. Saturday matinees are also scheduled.

Cast in the comedy are Tom Rosqui, Robert Symonds and Robert Phalen. The production is directed by Jules Irving.

The Actor's Workshop introduced the work of Pinter to American audiences three years ago with the long-run hit, "The Birthday Party."

Daniel Webster P-TA Hears 'New Math' Talk

Two hundred interested people heard talk about "new" mathematics by Dr. James R. Smart at the Daniel Webster P-TA meeting last Wednesday.

Dr. Smart acquainted parents with much of the vocabulary, terminology, methods and mecahnics used in teaching "new" mathematics. He made frequent use of blackboard examples for better understanding of problems.

"New" math isn't really new, he said, but places greater emphasis on complete understanding and individual reasoning. Young children frequently enter school with a fair understanding of number concepts, and the "new" math makes use of what they already know and presents to them at earlier levels the discovery and meaning of mathematics.

"Numbers are ideas, and ideas are abstract," he said, "These are merely devices for making abstract mathematics concrete."

In the acceleration of traditional mathematics, California school grades one through eight will begin study in new text books in the near future. Dr. Smart discussed the proposed state text books, and showed samples to the audience.

He concluded his talk with a question and answer period.

Primary teachers demonstrated many helpful new aids for teaching of math in the classrooms of Daniel Webster school.

Visual aids included flannel boards, counting men, sets and sub-sets to show number values.

Daniel Webster is the pilot school in the Jefferson Elementary School district for "new" math programs. First, second and third grade students are taking part in this course of study.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

WHILE SHOPPING last week, I met a friend, Mrs. Jane Egan, who lives at 23 Castillejo drive in Daly City, and she asked if I had made my Christmas cake yet. Admitting that I hadn't but was writing, it so happened, my column on fruit cakes that night, I asked if she had a good recipe. Since she had fruit cakes in the oven at that moment, she was glad to pass along this recipe and some cake-baking tips to share with you good cooks.

JANE'S FRUIT CAKE

4 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon mace
2 cups butter (that's one pound)
1 lb. brown sugar
10 eggs
½ lb. candied cherries
½ lb. candied pineapple
½ lb. Candied citron, thinly sliced
¼ lb. candied orange
¼ lb. candied lemon
½ lb. quartered walnuts
½ lb. whole pecans
1 lb. seeded dates, sliced
1 lb. seeded raisins
1 lb. currants
1 cup strawberry jam
1 cup dark molasses
1 cup cooking sherry

The night before you plan to bake your cake, prepare the fruit. Let the cherries, raisins and currants remain whole. Slice the citron thin, but let the rest of the fruit remain in rather large pieces. Then cover the fruit. Don't soak the nuts.

Sift flour once, measure and sift with spices three times. Cream shortening, gradually add the sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well with each addition.

Add nuts, jam and molasses to the soaked fruit. (Use a large roasting pan for this operation for it makes the whole mixture more convenient to handle). Now sift the flour and spices over this mixture and blend well so that all the fruit gets a coating. Pour the creamed mixture into the fruit and stir and blend well. (I find that no spoon in the world works as well as my hands until it's all blended.)

Pour into prepared pans. Use heavy brown paper to line pans, grease the paper generously on both sides. Place a pan of water in the bottom of the oven. This prevents a hard crust from forming on the cake and keeps the cake moist. Bake in 275-degree oven.

Jane tells me this makes about 10 pounds of cake. She divided it this way: a two pound loaf—bake two to 2½ hours; five one-pound loaves—bake 1½ hours; three one-pound coffee cans—bake one hour and 15 minutes.

I always test my cakes with a toothpick inserted into center of cake. If it comes out clean—it's done. These are just approximate times because the time varies with your oven and the size of your cake.

☆ ☆ ☆

THIS IS MY favorite white fruit cake. I've made it year after year and it always comes out perfectly. As you see, it has no spices. So it's a different flavor to the usual cake. Especially nice if you plan to make two cakes—one spicy and one more mild.

WHITE FRUIT CAKE

2 cups golden seedless raisins
6 ounces citron, shredded
½ lb. candied cherries
4 oz. candied pineapple, thinly sliced
2 cups blanched almonds
2 cups sifted flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
⅔ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
6 egg whites

Rinse and drain raisins. Shred citron. Cut cherries into halves. Sliced pineapple into thin wedges. Split almonds into halves or cut into slivers. Combine fruits and almonds with ½ cup flour and mix lightly. Sift remaining 1½ cups flour with baking powder and salt. Cream butter thoroughly. Add sugar gradually, blending well. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat well. Stir in vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour batter over fruit and nut mixture, mix lightly but thoroughly. Turn into prepared nine-inch tube pan lined with two thicknesses of greased brown paper and one of greased wax paper. Bake in slow oven (275 degrees) about three to 3½ hours, or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Makes about a 4½ pound cake.

Remove cake from oven and allow to cool in pan on cooling rack for 10 minutes. Then lift cake with baking papers and finish cooling on rack. Do not remove papers. When thoroughly cooled, prepare for storing. Trim papers even with top of cake. Then carefully wrap in foil or waxed paper. Store in cool dry place for several weeks.

If you wish to age the cake with brandy or sherry, remove baking papers from cooled cake. Wrap in several thicknesses of brandy or sherry soaked cloth. Then carefully wrap in foil or waxed paper. About every three weeks, remove outside wrappings and sprinkle with additional liquor. Rewrap as before.

☆ ☆ ☆

My last fruitcake comes from Mrs. Ceil Collins of 1674 Thirty-second avenue, San Francisco. And it does sound easy, doesn't it?

EASY FRUIT CAKE

1 package Pound cake mix (16 oz. pkg.)
¾ cup shredded almonds
¾ cup whole candied cherries
1 cup sliced dates
2 slices candied pineapple, cut up
¼ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Prepare the cake mix as directed on the box. Toss together the fruits, nuts, lemon rind and flour. Fold the fruit mixture into batter. Turn into a greased and floured tube pan and bake in 325-degree oven for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Let cake cool in pan for 10 minutes. Then turn out on cooling rack to cool throughly.

This may be used at once or wrapped in cheesecloth, soaked in sherry or brandy and stored in tightly closed tin.

S.F. State Sets Concert

On Sunday, December 8 at 3 p.m., the Artists Series concerts of the Chamber Music center at San Francisco State college will present Louis Kaufman, violin, Ferenc Molnar, viola, and Iaszlo Varga, cello, in a program of music for strings.

The event replaces the Ford foundation concert originally scheduled for this date, which is postponed, due to the illness of composer Roy Harris, to April 19.

The performance, which will be held admission free in the main auditorium, Creative Arts building at Nineteenth and Holloway, will feature the trio in B flat major of Schubert, the Duo for violin and cello, Opus 7, of Kodaly, and the Divertimento in E flat major of Mozart.

Louis Kaufman, the "great unseen violinist" of 300 Hollywood motion pictures, has recorded more than 100 major works of the violin repertory, of which his Vivaldi's "Four Seasons" concertos was the first American recording to win the French "Grand Prix du Disque" in 1950.

Ferenc Molnar, professor and director of the Chamber Music center at San Francisco State college, has earned world-wide recognition as a concert violist, chamber player, recording artist and educator. He has been a member of the Roth String quartet, and for many years solo violist of the San Francisco symphony until his retirement last spring.

Laszlo Varga, concert cellist, joined the music faculty of State college this fall as professor and conductor of the College's Symphony orchestra. Formerly professor at the University of Toronto and cellist of the Canadian String quartet, Varga has been solo cellist of the New York Philharmonic, the Budapest symphony, and member of the Lener quartet. This will be his first concert appearance since coming to San Francisco.

Mrs. Haven Is Named to Post

The American Association of University Women, Pacifica branch, has elected Mrs. Katie Haven as its president. She succeeds Mrs. Nancy Finken who is leaving Pacifica.

Mrs. Haven has been an active member of of AAUW for several years, having served in the past as legislation chairman, membership chairman and treasurer.

Yule Programs Are Announced

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department has announced a number of programs for the holiday season.

Holiday Decorations Show — The Sixth Annual Holiday Decorations show will be held at the Pacifica City hall on Friday, December 6, from 3 to 5 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday, December 7 and 8 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This show is a community effort to which individuals contribute holiday decorations for display; most of the articles are of a do-it-yourself nature and offer many new ideas for holiday decoration and entertaining.

The show is open to the public where they can view the displays, learn through the demonstrations of art-in-action, purchase pine cones for decorating and enjoy the Mispah fellowship refreshment table.

Various organizations will be decorating the doors of the City Hall Council chamber to enhance the beauty of the building as well as vying for the most popular vote by the attendance poll.

For those interested in displaying articles in the show, they will be accepted in the City hall on Friday, December 6, between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon.

HANDEL'S MESSIAH—The Pacifica Community chorus be presenting the annual "Messiah" on Sunday, December 15, at Our Saviors Lutheran church, Rockaway Beach.

The performance will be at 8 p.m. and the public is invited to attend. For anyone interested in joining the chorus for this presentation, rehearsals are held every Friday evening in the Oceana High school music room.

Holiday Entertaining — As a public relations service of the Pacific Gas and Electric company and the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department, a lecture and demonstration on "New Ideas for Holiday Entertaining" will be given on Friday, Dec. 13.

Mrs. Louise Fletcher, home economics advisor, will show slides and present ideas for holiday menus, decerations and entertaining. The City hall has been reserved for a 1:30 p.m. program and the public is invited to attend free of charge.

Gift Wrapping Demonstration —As a part of the special events program for the holiday season, a gift wrapping demonstration will be given at the City hall on Tuesday, December 10 at 2 p.m. Mrs. Mary Ardizoia, professional gift wrapper, will present unique ideas for enhancing holiday packages.

Ribbon typing, covering boxes, bow making and other techniques for gift wrapping will be shown to those present. A fee of 15 cents will admit anyone, and in addition to the demonstration, door prizes of wrapped boxes will be given.

Pacifica Players Production —The Pacifica Players are now in rehearsal for their holiday production of the "Christmas Carol." Local actors will delight the entire family on December 13 and 14 (8:30 p.m.) at Oddstad park when Scrooge will come into being.

A special matinee for the children will be presented on Sunday afternoon, December 15 at 2 p.m. Tickets will go on sale soon.

Committee Is Chosen

Mrs. Fred Pajkos, president of the Bayshore P-TA, has appointed these members to serve on a honorary life membership commitee:

Mrs. Frank Barbara, chairman, Bert Painchaud, Wayne Liebert, Gail O'Grady and Mrs. Marse Datzman.

The committee will recommend a recepient for the P-TA's honorary life membership award.

The award will be presented February 13 at the annual Founder's Day meeting.

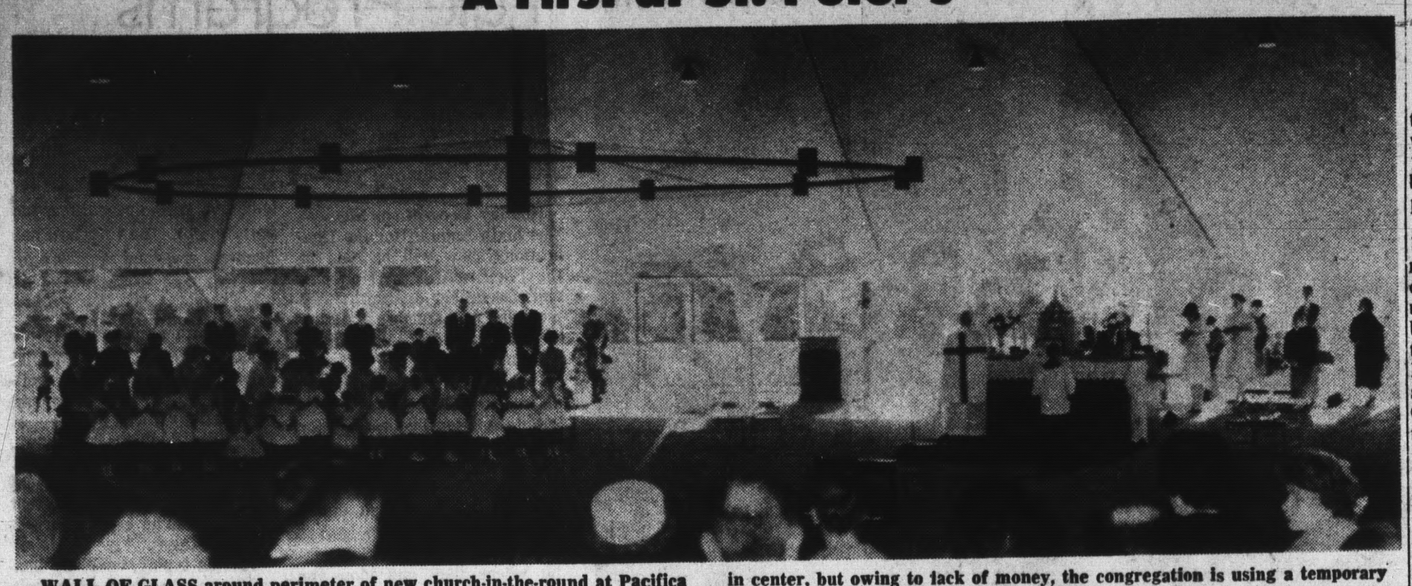
A First at St. Peter's



WALL OF GLASS around perimeter of new church-in-the-round at Pacifica gives the illusion of being in much larger building. Permanent altar will be in center, but owing to lack of money, the congregation is using a temporary altar.

First Communion Held in Pacifica Church-in-Round

By DENIS BLUNDEN

The first First Communion was held in the Pacifica's new Church-in-the-Round despite a general shortage of money holding up final completion of one of the county's most unusual churches.

But Rev. Francis Reilly, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic church-in-the-round, says it's nothing new to need money for church work and in the meantime regular Sunday mass is being celebrated in the new church.

A temporary altar has been installed in the center of the church and the congregation sits on chairs, some of them of the folding type.

Father Reilly says he can't give a date for completing all the inside details because it depends on the money, which he says is a never-ending problem. "We just hope," he explained.

A small chapel, which was the previous church, is still being used.

The new one is so new it hasn't got an official address yet, but Father Reilly thinks it will be 1700 Rosita road.

It was designed by San Francisco architect Mario Ciamp and associate Paul Reiter.

Interior structure is a round-shape shell of wood sections. The shell is supported at the top by a series of pre-cast concrete bents (beams) which look like a modern adaption of the flying buttresses of old European churches. The bents are on the outside and exposed.

Where the bents converge at the top, there is a lantern, which looks like a modern crown. The lantern is tipped with gold tile which glitters in the sun. A plastic skylight lets in light during the day and lets out some light when the church is used at night.

A ring of glass windows and doors runs around the perimeter of the shell at floor level, unmarred by supports because the shell hangs from the bents.

This gives the church an airy atmosphere. Outside the glass wall is a raised concrete ring, which looks like the wall of the church and gives the illusion of being in a much larger building.

The floor is concrete, except for brick in the altar area. Lights in the shell ceiling are directed to the floor and the shell is lighted by reflection.

Reiter said the design was something that evolved in the architects' offices using all the modern techniques available but attempting to keep a religious feeling in the church.

He said he does not know of any church like it in this country or anywhere else.

DRAMATIC DESIGN of new St. Peter's church is highlighted by series of concrete beams that support interior shell of church. At top is a lantern that reflects sun from gold tile at tips.

FIRST COMMUNION is given by the Rev. Francis Rielly of St. Peter's church in Pacifica. Congregation is using folding-type chairs in the new church until funds can be raised for permanent seating.

A Special Sermon Topic Is Announced

A special Thanksgiving service will be held at Westlake Lutheran church, tonight at 7:45 p.m. The meditation, by Pastor Kenneth Hansen, will be entitled, "Thanks Living."

At the Sunday worship service, "The Christian Funeral," will be the sermon subject. Pastor Hansen will refer to Jessica Mitford's book, "The American Way of Death," commenting on her view of the topic.

Sixty-two young people gathered for a Thanksgiving party last week at the church.

Tuesday, the ladies of the church will hostess the annual installation meetng of the West Bay chapter of the Lutheran Welfare auxiliary for all Lutheran women in the area.

The program will be from 10:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. Dessert and coffee will be served and child are will be provided.

Chaplain Elmer Laursen, Protestant chaplain of the University of California Medical center, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. John Hodgkiss will be the organist and special music will be provided.

Eucharist to Be Sung at St. Edmunds

Thanksgiving service at St. Edmund's Episcopal church, 1160 Seville drive, will be a sung Eucharist with sermont at 10 a.m. tomorrow, according to the Rev. John R. Fredricks, vicar.

To accommodate new members, the meeting time of the adult Inquirers' class has been permanently changed from Thursday to Tuesday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m. at the church. This class is open to all who want to know about the faith of the church, whether or not they want to affiliate with it or are already members, Reverend Fredericks said.

Reverend Fredericks has also revealed that St. Edmund's has sold its vicarage at 1407 Rosita road in Linda Mar and is in process of purchasing in its stead one of the model homes in the Marina Hills group off Linda Mar boulevard.

Westlake Men's Club Plans Meet

Membership awards and refreshments with a holiday flavor will feature the regular monthly meeting of the Westlake Catholic Men's club Tuesday evening in the parish hall of Our Lady of Mercy church at 8:15 p.m.

Dick Hoedt, club president, has announced that no speaker has been arranged in order to provide additional time for a pre-holiday social hour for the members following the business meeting.

Sets of tickets to major sport and entertainment attractions will be among the special membership awards to be presented to members in attendance.

Frank Lawson, Holy Name director for the club, also announced this week that the men's monthly Communion Mass will be held on this coming Sunday, at 8 a.m. and urged a large attendance of fathers and sons.

Baha'i at S.F. Meeting

The Baha'is of Daly City will attend their annual state convention, on Sunday at the Whitcomb hotel in San Francisco, according to Edward Karres, secretary of the local group. Five hundred Baha'is from northern California are expected to attend the convention.

An observance of Human Rights day will be held at the War Memorial Community center, on Thursday, December 5, at 8 p.m. by members of the Baha'i World Faith in this community.

Unitarian Fellowship to Host Jewish Community

Members of the Jewish Community center will be the guests of the Pacifica Unitarian fellowship at its meeting Sunday at 10:30 a.m. in the Oddstad Recreation center.

The speaker will be Dr. Seymour Cain, who until this year has been a member of the Institute for Philosophical Research in San Francisco, and who is known to many Pacificans as the leader of the Great Books discussion groups held locally.

His talk on "Martin Buber and the Hasidim" will describe the 18th century Jewish sect which has charmed many readers of Martin Buber as a community closely sharing its religious and secular concerns.

According to Unitarian Program Chairman Mike Haggerty, in San Francisco the Reformed Jewish and Unitarian congregations regularly hold their Thanksgiving services together, meeting alternately at Temple Emanu-el and the First Unitarian church.

Cain has published several books in the field of comparative religions. He has lectured in the University of Chicago and helped to develop the reading plan for Encyclopedia Britican-na in association with Mortimer Adler.

Hope Lutheran Plans Sermon

Thanksgiving services will be held at Hope Lutheran church, at 10 a.m., tomorrow Pastor Arnim H. Polster has announced.

Using as his text verses 1-6, Psalm 92, the theme of Pastor Polster's sermon will be "Thanksgiving Is a Grateful Heart."

Special Thanksgiving music will be provided by the Hope Lutheran church choir, under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence Edler. Featured in the choir's program will be the hymn "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing."

Cake Sale Is Planned

The Young Ladies' Institute 190 of the Church of the Visitacin is planning a pancake breakfast and bake sale Sunday after all masses.

The event will be held in the parish hall at 775 Sunnydale avenue, San Francisco.

The cakes will be freshly baked by members of the institute and their friends. Mrs. Jack O'Sullivan and Mrs. Walter Henning are chairmen.

Breakfast will be cooked and served by institute members. All proceeds will go to the group's welfare fund.

Although Robert H. Harrison was nominated, confirmed and commissioned as an associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, he did not accept the commission and became the only person to refuse the appointment.

Teen Clubs Announce Activities

A variety of special activities have been planned for this weekend by a number of the junior high teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

The Casualiers have slated a bowling party and pot luck dinner for Friday afternoon and evening. The program will get underway with two hours of bowling at Serra Bowl from 4 to 6 p.m. followed by a pot luck dinner and dance at Colma school from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Cost of the activity is 75 cents for members and 90 cents for guests.

Members of the Majestics and their guests are planning on a visit to the evening Planetarium show at Golden Gate park on Friday evening. Those participating will leave the Lincoln Park clubhouse at 7:30 p.m. with an approximate return at 10 p.m. Cost of the outing will be 35 cents for members and 45 cents for guests.

A swim party on Friday evening at the San Francisco YWCA is the Bayshore Bovines' special activity. Buses will leave Bayshore school at 6:30 p.m. and return at 9:30 p.m. for the two-hour swim period. The 75 cents charge includes swimming, towel, transportation and insurance.

The Telstars' big activity for the month is a hayride and barbecue Saturday evening. Buses will leave Lincoln school at 6:15 p.m. to take members to Shamrock Farms in Pacifica for the hayride. Buses will return participants to the Westlake Park clubhouse for a barbeque and dance lasting to 10 p.m.

The one-dollar cost for the evening includes the hayride, transportation, insurance and the barbeque. Parents assisting with the activity include: Mr. and Mrs. John Duart, Mrs. Patricia Fairbourn, Mrs. Peter Cancilla, Mrs. Ronald Axenham, Mr. and Mrs. George Geras, Mrs. Robert Herring as well as Teen club advisers Nancy Brown, Ron Levaco and Jim Oswald.

Holiday Services Told

Bethel Lutheran church at 2525 Alemany boulevard, Daly City, will observe Thanksgiving Day with a special service Thursday at 10 a.m.

The Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder will preach on the subject: "The Praise of a Grateful Heart." The senior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Dale McKinney, will sing: "Let Us Praise God."

This is a canticle in which the pastor will serve as reader and the central thought is then echoed by the choir. Mrs. Abel Fabela will serve as organist.

Terra Nova Topics

By CATHIE REED

TERRA NOVA has wound up another Spirit Week—a week of class competition. There are certain standards which the judges go by to decide which class has shown the most spirit and is most worthy of receiving the Spirit Plaque—a perpetual trophy.

TUESDAY, the seniors showed their spirit by wearing crazy hats, the juniors by wearing mixed colors, the sophomores by slipping on crazy shoes, and the lowly freshmen by donning crazy socks.

Scenes at Terra Nova were really wild. Everyone was yelling as loud as possible, vying with each other to create the most noise—one of the standards by which the classes were judged.

WEDNESLAY was the day for "historical hysteria." Everybody had to wear the dress of someone or something in history and the results were hilarious. Several beatniks, cowboys, and Indians showed up.

A few gory-looking war veterans had to wash off some of their blood stains to alleviate the sympathy pains. It was all very successful. Everybody was in hysterics most of the time and the yelling was practically ear-splitting.

THURSDAY, although we dressed in regular school clothes, was almost as exciting as Wednesday. Every class formed groups as they sang their class songs and yelled out S-E-N-I-O-R-S, or whatever their class spelling is, until they were hoarse. It became more and more obvious that the spirited juniors were out-yelling just about everybody most of the time.

FRIDAY was color day. Each class had its own color and an all-important rally was held. Each class had to give a skit. They were all good. Even the lowly freshmen gave a spirited showing.

The senior skit was most popular with the teachers, since it satirized several members of the faculty.

Friday night at the South San Francisco game, the juniors were announced as the winners of the Spirit Week competition.

★ ★ ★

SEVERAL vocational speakers were invited to speak during Spirit Week before the senior social studies classes. Vocations in transportation, insurance, retail, and jobs available in telephone companies were discussed.

The program gave the students an insight into the business world that they wouldn't have been able to have otherwise.

Westmoor Whirl

By SHEILA STAVISH

THANKSGIVING IS:

Four glorious days of vacation without benefit of alarm clocks and school bells, when the only jangling is the promising sound of the telephone.

The end of football season for battered and bruised players and loyal Ram rooters who braved the icy wind to cheer the team.

Five minutes more sleep now that first period begins at 8:20.

A mere 200 days until graduation.

Walking six blocks to school in the rain and not having to undergo the five-mile childhood hikes in the snow of one's father.

No longer being pegged as an underclassman, now that eagerly awaited senior keys have finally arrived.

Breakfast Set At St. Martin's

A breakfast will be held at St. Martin's Episcopal church, at 11 a.m., immediately following the 10 o'clock Thanksgiving day service.

The menu features tender, special-formula pancakes, coffee, hot chocolate, orange juice and sausage. There will be a charge of 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for children under 10 years of age.

Westmoor, Oceana C.S.F. Group Visits Cal Campus

Fifty members of Westmoor High school's California Scholarship federation and 10 members of Oceana High school's C.S.F. chapter have visited the University of California at Berkeley campus.

Touring the grounds under the supervision of university student guides, the visitors viewed campus life.

They observed such points of interest as the Greek theater, which holds a capacity of 10,000 persons and where football rallies are held; the Student Union, which contains facilities ranging from an art gallery to a bowling alley, and the numerous divisions and sections of the student library.

Also visited by several campus guests were new dormatories, some of which are still under construction.

Westmoorites spotted several former classmates who are now members of the Cal student body.

Accompanying the group was Westmoor's C.S.F. adviser, Evelyn Slater, who said a study group is being planned for the final C.S.F. meeting of the year.

At that time, Dean of Girls Margaret Riggs will provide college-bound sophomores and juniors with information concerning college entrance exams.

Newly elected Westmoor C.S.F. officers are Lynn Jones, president; Sherry Rosen, vice president and Sue Irby, secretary-treasurer.

BETTER BUSINESS

Use Caution in Buying Perfume

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor of The Better Business Bureau's "Barometer"

PERFUME is one of the most popular gift items for Christmas shoppers.

Unfortunately, it is also one of the most exploited products used by the "fast buck" artist who makes his appearance every Yuletide season with his rebottled cologne and perfumes that carry price tags usually as imaginary as the advertised French origin of the perfumes and colognes.

Many Christmas shoppers are fooled every year into purchasing "bargains" in perfumes, toilet waters and colognes under the illusion that they are paying a price far below that normally charged.

Prime targets of the Christmas perfume hoax are business executives who order holiday gifts in large quantities and men buying for wives, sweethearts and relatives.

Toilet water in containers with pictured Gallic scenes suggesting French origin have been pre-ticketed with prices ranging up to $20 when, as far as could be determined by investigation, the products so designated have customarily sold within a price range of $1 to $3.

In some instances, such grossly exaggerated price representations have been bolstered by national advertising, quoting inflated prices solely for the purpose of creating the illusion that that is what the perfumes and colognes regularly sold for and were worth.

SOME OF THE promoters set the stage for fleecing bargain hunters with a one-shot national advertisement to substantiate the phoney price.

They sell their products through high pressure salesmen in offices, at factory gates, on the street, door-to-door and in some stores.

These salesmen display reproductions of the planted advertisements to convince the gullible bargain hunter that what they offer for a few dollars a bottle actually has a price value of from $15 up to $20 a bottle.

In some instances, they induce a few retailers in an area chosen for exploitation to stock small quantities of their product at the inflated prices.

The fact that the advertised bargain prices can be verified by a quick phone call to a local store helps to make their sales talk more convincing.

THE MOST prevalent scheme is the rebottling of cologne and toilet water in small purse-size containers.

Firms having no connection with the brand name products used, rebottle well-known colognes and perfumes and provide display cards which play up the famous brand names.

The uninformed public may inaccurately infer that because the small size containers resemble those used to contain genuine perfumes, they are buying perfume at a bargain price.

Actually, such rebottled cologne and toilet water sold in this manner costs an exorbitant price when compared with the regular prices charged by the manufacturers of such products in their regular containers. For example, an eight-ounce bottle of a brand of toilet water often used by rebottlers regularly sells for $10 —or less than 16 cents per dram.

The rebottled price in fancy purse-size containers, giving the air of high-priced elegance and containing about one dram, sells for $1.

ANOTHER SCHEME is in the sale of spray containers, which are not labeled with brand names but are marked with initials such as "A," whch the sales person will tell the customer stands for "Arpege"; "C" for Chanel Number 5; "MS" for My Sin; "WS" for White Shoulders.

In such cases investigated, these products have not contained the perfume, cologne or toilet water of the names implied by the initials used to stand for their famous counterparts but have been concocted to stimulate those fragrances.

Sometimes numbers are used in lieu of famous brand names or initials used in the sale of purse-size sprays and other containers.

These numbers are translated by sales personnel from a list. "I" stands for "Arpege"; "5" for "Chanel Number 5" etc.

Analysis of some of the scents sold in this manner established that, although represented as perfumes, they actually were cologne or toilet water.

College Bond Issue Wins Board Okay

A bond issue has been approved by the San Mateo Junior college district board of trustees as the method of providing funds for the district's master plan development, including the initial construction of the north and the south campuses and the expansion of the College Heights facility to accommodate an enrollment of 8000 students.

Neither the amount of the bond issue nor the possible date of the election has been set, but the board is expected to take action in the meeting of December 11 to determine the amount and the time of election in compliance with state law.

After careful study of the bond issue method or the possibility of a pay-as-you-go plan based on a tax override, the board gave its approval to the bond issue, based on two major considerations: cost tothe taxpayer and spreading cost of improvement over a longer period of time.

As outlined in a detailed study by Superintendent Julio L. Bortolazzo, a proposed issue of $12,800,000 would require a bond issue and redemption rate of only 8½ cents at the maximum.

Charting the tax rates for the combined 1957 issue and the new issue, the superintendent indicated that the 1964-1965 total would be .0767, and in the highest year in 1966-67 would be .1183.

Prior to the annexation of the Sequoia district in 1961, the district's rate for the redemption of the single issue of $5,900,000 from 1957 was .1097 in 1960-1961.

The superintendent emphasized that, because of the enlarged district's tax base, the combined issue, then, would mean an increase of less than two cents.

The tentative program for the district's master plan calls for construction of the initial units of the north campus for use in 1966, completion of south site payments and the initial units of the south campus at least by 1967, purchase of a coastside site, and completion of the expansion of the College Heights campus.

MAIL EARLY DRIVE

That Campaign Gets Underway

That annual campaign North county post offices mount each year about this time is off and running.

It's the "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign. And, according to postal officials, all indications point to another record volume of Christmas mail this year.

To help workers handle the volume postmasters have offered these hints for Christmas mailings:

CHECK over your Christmas card and gift list very carefully — be certain each address is complete with full name, street and number, city, state and zone or zip code number.

STOCK UP soon on sturdy packing materials for your gift packages including heavy wrapping paper, corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape.

BUY your postage stamps now. You can use the colorful new five-cent Christmas tree stamps on your cards.

OBTAIN free labels from your post office that read: "all for local delivery" and "all for out-of-town delivery." This will enable you to sort your Christmas cards into two groups, with addresses all facing one way — thus insuring fast delivery.

BE SURE that your full name and address is on all of your Christmas card envelopes and shipping labels and be doubly sure to include your ZIP code number in your return address.

SCHEDULE your Christmas mailings so that all of your cards and gift packages going to most distant points are mailed by December 10. Those for local destinations should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

North County Tax Group Blasts District Attorney

The North San Mateo County Taxpayers' association, which—along with Dr. Nancy Jewell Cross, Menlo Park research chemist—staged the major organized opposition to the city-county road bond measure defeated last June, last week accused District Attorney Keith Sorenson of "seeking to hush up the matter of improper county promotion of the bonds" as a result of grand jury action directing its foreman, Robert Higgins, to desist from further public statements relating to grand jury proceedings without a unanimous vote of the body.

"It is significant," the taxpayers' statement read, "that Mr. Higgins referred reporters to the district attorney for news of Thursday's deliberations, and that Sorenson stated of the road bond dispute that it was about over."

"It is time to remind the public that Sorenson appeared last spring as a debater on the pro-road bonds side in San Bruno city hall in team with two town hall officials against a panel of citizens which included Dr. Nancy Jewell Cross.

It is easy to see how difficult it might be for the district attorney to maintain an unbiased attitude in the matter of collection for the taxpayers of funds improperly expended by the county in a pro-argument with which he was at the forefront.

"This emphasizes again the dire necessity of having at least a part-time county counsel to act on behalf of the people of the county in cases such as this, where the district attorney apparently has succeeded in cutting the people off from their last recourse of independent information—the grand jury.

"We understand the county supervisors have referred our proposal for such a county counsel to Stallings and Sorenson for study.

S.S.F. Pupils Win Bonds

Raymond L. John, South San Francisco High school student, and Linda Albright, El Camino High school student, have been presented with $25 savings bonds for winning the Constitution Essay contest sponsored by the Masonic lodge in commemoration of the adoption of the Constitution.

The contest was open to junior and senior social studies students at both high schools.

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum presented the students with the bonds and also awarded certificates of merit to El Camino students Arlyne Graney, Jim Storey and Richard Boucher.

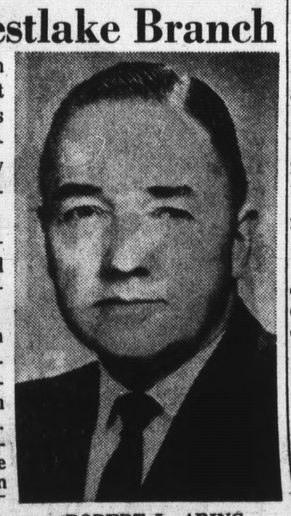
Crocker-Citizens Names Aide at Westlake Branch

Robert L. Aring has been named assistant manager at Crocker-Citizens National bank's Westlake office in Daly City, according to an announcement by Emmett G. Solomon, bank president.

He succeeds Joseph E. Medina who has been transferred to the bank's Marina district office in San Francisco.

Aring's banking career began in 1946 when he joined Crocker-Citizens as aconsumer loan interviewer at its Market-Fourth streets office in San Francisco.

He was manager of the consumer loan department at the bank's Seaboard office in San Francisco when, in October, 1962, he entered Crocker-Citizen's administrative training program.



ROBERT L. ARING
Named to Position

Upon completion of that training, he received his present assignment.

The Westlake office at 33 Southgate avenue in the Westlake shopping center is headed by Assistant Vice President and manager Fred H. Brylka.

It is one of 213 Crocker-Citizens offices in 124 communities in northern and southern California.

Cannes Film To Be Shown

The Cannes award winning film in 1962, "A Million Lights Shall Glow," will be shown by Westlake Travel center at 8 p.m. tomorrow in room 7 of Westmoor High school.

Lorenzo Lo, lecturer and expert on the Far East, will speak. The film deals with the city of Hong Kong. Also shown will be "The Orient" depicting a voyage featuring Japan, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

Both films are in color and sound. The public is invited free of charge.

Resident Retires

A Career Ends

Mrs. Ethel M. Parker of 355 Park Plaza drive, Daly City, has retired from 25 years of Federal Civil Service work — the last 17 spent at the Oakland Army terminal.

She was honored at a coffee-and-cake party upon her retirement by fellow employes.

In the photo above, Mrs. Parker receives good wishes at the party from Major Stephen Pryplesh of the terminal's operation division.

Mrs. Parker started her career with the Federal Works Progress administration in San Francisco in 1938. In 1941, she was transferred to the Port Quartermaster at Ft. Mason and in 1946 she was assigned to Oakland.

Her position upon retirement was supervisory transportation assistant in the terminal cargo division.

In honor of her 25 years' service, she received a letter of commendation from Col. Harry C. Olson, head of the operations division.

Mother of 5 Wins Cancer Scholarship

Mrs. Lynette C. Hill, Pacifica mother of five children and laboratory technologist in a San Francisco hospital, has been awarded a $1000 scholarship by the American Cancer society.

Mrs. Hill, of 759 Arguello boulevard, is one of five students from the Bay Area enrolled at U. C. Medical center in San Francisco under terms of Papanicolaou Cytology scholarships. The ACS finances a six-month course in exfoliative cytology.

Cytology is a branch of biology dealing with the structure, functions and malformation of cells. Her instructor is Conchita Mitchell of 2761 Concord way, San Bruno.

Mrs. Hill attended University of Utah and is a graduate of University of California.

She had five years experience in her field before devoting her time to raising her family which now includes four sons.

The scholarships are named for Dr. George N. Papanicolaou, "one of the great men in cancer research whose 'P a p' smear test has helped cut the death rate from uterine cancer by half in the past 25 years," according to Mrs. Lorin A. Cranson of Hillsborough, acting ACS president for San Mateo county.

The scholarship program is aimed at bringing the "Pap" smear test closer to area women by increasing the number of lab technologists able to read slides properly.

CANCER DETECTIVES—Mrs. Lynette C. Hill of Pacifica sees slides as U.C. Medical center instructor Conchita Mitchell of San Bruno conducts a class in cell study. Mrs. Hill, a graduate in laboratory technology, was granted a $1000 scholarship by the American Cancer society in honor of pioneer cancer researcher Dr. George N. Papanicolaou.

DEATHS

ELIZABETH DRAGO

Funeral services for Elizabeth Drago, 108 Citrus avenue, Daly City, were held last week by the W. C. Lasswell chapel.

A native of New York, she lived in California for 58 years.

Private services were held at the Lassweell chapel following a mass at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Friday.

She is survived by her husband Charles Drago; two sisters, Mrs. Nora Cereghino, Mrs. Frances LeBrun and two brothers, Thomas and Frank Quillinan.

SOLOMON MILLARD

Solomon Millard, 81, 659 Miller avenue, South San Francisco, was pronounced dead Friday morning on arrival at Kaiser Foundation emergency hospital.

A native of Sedan, Kan., he was a retired pipefitter and had been in this area only about six weeks.

Survivors include his wife, Ethel, in Nevada; three daughters, Mrs. Pauline Chase, Mrs. Ellen Brunzell, and Mrs. Bernice Lamuth, all of South San Francisco; a son, Ralph, Cave Junction, Ore., and grandchildren. Funeral services were held at Nauman and Lincoln chapel, South San Francisco.

BRYDEN ARTHUR BATEMAN

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Bryden Arthur Bateman of 974 Brunswick street in Daly City by the W. C. Lasswell chapel.

A native of Michigan, he lived in California for the past 31 years. He was a member of the National Association of Power Engineers.

Survivors include his wife, Helen Bateman; two children, William and Cynthia Bateman and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Presse of Ishpeming, Wash.

Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

WINDSHIELD STOLEN

Wilson and Sereni Motors at 7300 Mission street, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen a windshield from a new Jeep.

Letters From Our Readers

TO THE EDITOR:

Many words have been said and written about our beloved temple, which we, the members of Congregation B'nai Israel, have to leave in the very near future.

For nearly a year we have been searching, negotiating and abandoning to replace our present temple. Sites to build a house of worship are not to be had unless you have the right amount of money behind you.

We are a group of people who work mostly six days a week for a living. We are determined to educate our children to be good American Jews who believe in the heritage of conservative Judaism. Do we ask for much?

Some of our members and friends in our community, who mean well, were angered at the board of supervisors' decision to over-rule the San Mateo Planning commission's approval of building on the site purchased in Colma.

To clarify some of the misinterpretations, the president of the congregation reports that the mayor, the council and other officials of Daly City have been most helpful in every respect toward our congregation and will, according to Mayor Joseph Verducci, continue to do so.

We are most grateful to all city officials and also to the ministerial association of the city for pledging their support to our cause.

We are of the opnion that wrong has been done to us by the board of supervisors and we will leave no stone unturned until we will be able to build a new temple and Sunday school for our chidren, who to us are the future of America and our heritage.

Anyone who is interested in our cause may contact our Rabbi S. Shore at JU 6-7642 or write to 67 Los Banos avenue, Daly City.

TO THE EDITOR:

There is a distinct impression that someone is trying to sell Pacificans a strange bill of goods. Our city council is being pressured to endorse and support an unknown private organization calling itself "The American Association for the U.N."

This would seem to be obviously not a concern for local city government anymore than endorsement and support of Kiwanis, Rotary, or the American Legion.

At the same time, we are told in a "U.N. Day" observance that the U.N. offers us all an opportunity to become "citizens of the world"; that Red China should be admitted to the U.N. in direct violation of official U.S. policy.

Lastly, a boy scout troop sings a Czechoslovakian folk song at an affair that eliminates the pledge of allegiance to the American flag.

There is a distinct impression that someone is trying to sell Pacificans a strange bill of goods.

TO THE EDITOR:

The North Peninsula Circle of the Florence Crittenton home wishes to thank you and your staff for the wonderful publicity given our recent luncheon-fashion show, "Fall Fantasy."

We consider the luncheon was a tremendous success and was in great part due to the publicity given by The Post-Times and also the coverage throughout the year by Louanne Heath in her "Louanne's Datebook" column.

TO THE EDITOR:

Last week I read that Rabbi Shore's site for a synagogue was not approved.

Today I read that a St. Francis cocktail lounge gets Daly City approval. I appeal to all concerned . . . do we need a neighborhood bar or a synagogue to help us live with ourselves and love our neighbors?

Those who need a cocktail lounge can easily find one. Which is more important to Daly City; a place of worship, or a cocktail lounge?

Monies for Center Work Requested

A campaign for donations to complete the Oddstad recreation center in Linda Mar is now un derway by P a c i f i c a 's park, beach and recreation department.

Recreation director Eldred Lokker said that to date, a total of $113 has been contributed by Pacifica Flower Friends, American Association of University Women, Christian church and recreation staff and commission members.

Another $250 is needed to complete the lower floor of the center into three activity rooms and three storerooms.

Lokker said that all Pacifica organizations performing servce projects are being asked to contribute.

The commission recently received permission from the city council to transfer $1850 from reserve funds for building and grounds development work at Oddstad park and Pomo park center in Sharp park.

However, Lokker explained that most of this money would go to purchase a furnace for the Pomo park center and for drainage work at Oddstad park.

Major items needed to complete the lower floor at Oddstad center include construction of a stairway, which would cost approximately $150, and electrical work costing about $200.

The Mizpah and Unitarian fellowships will complete one room each as service projects. This includes installation of sheetrock, wiring, painting, doors and hardware.

Oddstad center now has a theater, kitchen, office and balcony. It is being used as a teenaged drop-in center with 50 to 60 youngsters in attendance each evening, a meeting place for Boy Scouts, church groups and the YWCA, and as a theater by Pacifica Players.

Festival Head Is Appointed

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

WELL IN ANOTHER 48 hours that great American institution will be under way again. It's the annual mass assault on a rather defenseless member of the featured flock—the turkey.

At about this time of year, everbody's talking turkey—except, of course, the turkeys and they're probable enmeshed in last wills.

You can always tell Thanksgiving is just around the corner for the markets start advertising the turkey in the grand manner. At about the same time, you can just about slice the gloom that settles over the residents of any turkey farm.

This gang attack on the turkey mob dates back to our Pilgrim Fathers who started stuffing the mob into ovens and hearths for a Thanksgiving snack.

As Nell Norton so sagaciously observed in her column last week: "Since that time, turkey and Thanksgivings have been synonymous and the poor turkeys have hated November ever since."

Small wonder. It isn't so much that we Americans enjoy turkey on Thanksgiving. It's the gangbusters' way in which we go about warming up for the feast.

For weeks in advance, the community turkey raffle pulls in a higher Trendex rating than Ben Casey.

The national magazines are filled with turkey recipes and handsome color photographs of the bird reclining in a melange of roasting positions on the dining room table.

The nation's jokesters begin exhuming all those tired turkey witticisms. The word "gobbler" gets its yearly dusting off.

In every living room across the land, the ancient art of invitemanship is honed to a fine edge. This may be roughly described as outwaiting—in masterful fashion—your relatives for an invitation to Thanksgiving dinner.

This November activity has often ranked with chess as a test of true mental stamina and patience.

★ ★ ★

ONCE THE GREAT day draws near, the preparations for the turkey assault really get warmed up.

On the Saturday before, an absolutely overwhelming deluge of humanity descends upon the markets. If you've ever stopped to notice, the push kart traffic in a North county supermarket aisle on that day makes the Nimitx Freeway look like an abandoned road.

After the shopping struggle that usually rages right up until turkey day itself, the business of seasoning and stuffing and poking and sewing old gobbler gets underway.

This task invariably is duly assigned to mom who long ago gave up any ideas about spending Thanksgiving in any other way than being surrounded by general kitchen mayhem throughout the day.

For those nonkitchen personnel whose only task for Thanksgiving is to be present when the call, "dinner is ready," is issued, a number of preparations also are invariably carried out.

For example, the true Thanksgiving dinner connoisseur most likely hasn't eaten since Sunday. Moreover, just to make sure his appetite is primed, he has arisen early that day, exercised with what little strength remains after four days of famine and taken a brisk walk to fill his lungs with the smell of autumn and the neighbors' cooking.

To be full prepared, he also coms to the dinner table wearing that slightly-too-large pair of trousers he hasn't worn since last Thanksgiving. This, of course, allows room for expansion.

★ ★ ★

ONCE THE CHARGE begins, it is truly Americana in its finest hour. It is, at the outset, an hour of decision for it soon becomes apparent there are far too many kinds of food for the size plate that has been set before each warrior.

This sort of dilemma sets in motion another fun game of Thanksgiving—dishmanship. The idea here is to fill your plate with at least a portion—however small—from every serving plate that makes the first go-round.

Almost without exception, dishmanship, when executed in true championship form by all hands, produces a table of small mountains, behind each of which may be heard the clatter of knife and fork and the occasional swirl of wine.

As the mountains start to disappear, the diners start to reappear—looking considerably less wan from hunger than before.

Round two, of course, rebuilds the mountains and the table clatter that bravely had just got started falls away to nothing.

At about this time, a clarion shout goes up from mom who reminds all assembled to save some war energy for the last great assault of the day—the pie offensive.

Now the pie battle must be considered as one of the most remarkable aspects of Thanksgiving dinners.

For when that shout goes up from mom, the unanimous rejoinder always is: "Gee, I'm stuffed. I can't eat another thing."

Not for a few moments, that is. Or at least not until the pies are brought in and everyone is asked what he prefers. Now, of course, all those utterly stuffed warriors are famished again and everyone wants pie.

★ ★ ★

ONCE THE pies are demolished, all agree there simply isn't any more room for ANYTHING and this unanimity of opinion is maintained until the coffee and cookies make their round. And after that, the fudge.

And, ultimately, the bicarbonate.

At the end of the battle, victorious smiles are exchanged while the conquered—the sad remains of a turkey, one radish, two stalks of celery, a smidgen of squash and some pumpkin pie crust—are whisked off to the kitchen.

There the mopping-up operation gets under way with—you guessed it—mom in command again—this time wrestling with a sink full of dishes instead of a bowl full of stuffing.

Ultimately, the battlefield, both the kitchen and the dining room, are cleared, the winners in the game of invitemanship clomp heavily out of the house and into their cars and another Thanksgiving day ends.

The turkey population has suffered another staggering blow. The markets are bulging with receipts. The populace is bulging with turkey. The battle is over for at least a month and then it will be time to sit down to Christmas dinner.

But that, fellow warriors, is another story.

New Parking For College Is Planned

A contract for construction of an additional 1586 parking spaces on the College Heights campus was approved Wednesday night by the San Mateo Junior college district trustees.

The L. C. Smith company, with a low bid totalling $217,537 for additional paved parking spaces in three lots on the west side of the campus, was awarded the contract.

The work on the project will begin after the contract signing on December 1, so that the first of the new lots will be available for the start of the spring semester and the total addition by September of 1964.

Empahsizing that the additional parking lots are not part of the plan for the initial stage of College Heights, Supt. Julio L. Bortolazzo cited the marked increase in enrollment for the fall semester this year, far in advance of the projected enrollment.

As reported to the trustees by Herbert Warne, co-ordinator of admissions and registration, the gross enrollment of day college students for this semester was 5633. The next enrollment during the fourth week of the semester, a total of 5441 students, is a 25 per cent gain over the fall of 1962. Of particular interest was Warne's notation that the percentage of dropouts is only 3.41 per cent — only two more students than in 1962, when the student enrollment was 1100 lower.

DALY CITY CENSUS

You're Being Counted Again

Don't look now but you're being counted again—or at least you will be before the end of the year.

The Daly City council last week authorized the finance department to apply for another head count so the city can receive more in lieu of motor vehicle and gas tax funds based on a bigger population.

This is the second consecutive year Daly City has applied for a special census.

Last year, by virtue of the special count, Daly City became the second largest city in San Mateo county with a population of 52,800. San Mateo's 73,000 is tops.

Finance Director Joseph Arch estimates that with the additional building that has taken place in Daly City in the past year and an actual count of the residents in Bayshore, the population may go over 60,000

The census will cost the city around $325. Arch estimates the city will receive about $32,000 more annually as a result of it.

The census bureau uses information from utility companies and the building inspector's office to estimate population.

PACIFICA FREEWAY

Earlier End to Road Work Seen

By DON MILLER

An earlier end to construction of Pacifica's new freeway than previously anticipated has been forecast.

In a talk to the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce at Nick's restaurant, an official of the McNamara corporation, which is building the superhighway, said the project should be completed by October of next year.

The official, Don McCollum, manager of the highway construction division of McNamara, told chamber members:

"If everything goes along as it has been so far, it looks like we'll be finished here by next October."

Early in September, Dino Cassinelli, state highway project engineer, declared that the freeway was scheduled to be finished by mid-1965 but that a more likely date would be Christmas of 1964.

McCollum said that "as far as the layman can see, it doesn't look like much is being done."

He explained this is because much of the work is involved with laying 50,000 feet of pipe along the 3.29-mile project.

He added that his company is endeavoring to complete the freeway in as short a time as possible and with a minimum of inconvenience to motorists.

The Pacifica freeway is only one of a number of projects that the huge McNamara company is engaged in but it's one of the most involved, McCollum said. He explained:

"The job here in Pacifica is not the largest of our projects but it's one of the most intricate one schedule-wise because of the tremendous amount of traffic at all times.

"The state requires us to carry traffic on a paved road at all times while construction is going on."

The $7-million project will extend the Edgemar freeway southward to Vallemar.

By 1965, the state is expected to widen the remainder of the Cabrillo highway from Vallemar to Linda Mar from two to four lanes.

Before McCollum's talk, Basil Gladiuex, chamber manager, reported that the group's board of directors had decided not to sponsor a civic dance to celebrate the seventh anniversary of Pacifica's incorporation.

An anniversary dance had been held the past two years.

The lack of an adequate hall to hold the dance was given as the reason for the board's action, Gladieux reported.

Commission Begins Coast Study Study

The California Highway commission last week took under consideration the adoption of a freeway routing for 2.2 miles of state highway route 229 in Pacifica, San Mateo county, between state sign route 1 and the Pacifica city limit at Sweeney Ridge.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack recommended a route which runs north for approximately a quarter-mile from its starting point just onrth of the Hewitt avenue intersection with state sign route 1, curving to the eat and crossing state sign route 1 just south of Mori's Point road.

It then proceeds in a general easterly direction to the Pacifica city limit at Sweeney Ridge, where it joins a freeway routing through San Bruno adopted by the commission in January 1963.

The recommended route and two possible alternates were discussed at a public hearing held by the division of highways in Pacifica on September 1.

The commission requested Womack to ask the city council of Pacifica if it wishes the commission itself to hold a public hearing on the matter before taking further action to adopt a freeway routing.

Plans of the division of highways call for the construction of a four-lane freeway with provision for future expansion to six lanes. The cost is estimated at $10,600,000, including rights of way. Start of construction would depend on the availability of future highway funds.

Recreation Unit Asked For Policy

The Daly City Recreation commission will be asked for a policy decision tonight on the use of recreation department groups by organizations to raise funds.

The commission will meet at 7:30 in the War Memorial Community center.

Recreation head Charles Vincent said he has received a request from a service organization to use department-sponsor groups to solicit funds through the sale of tickets.

He said fulfilling the request would create problems of responsibility and he is asking the commissioners for a policy decision.

In other action, the commissioners will review continuance of the annual dog show at Marchbanks park.

Sponsors of the show have been asked to appear at the meeting to answer questions on the conduct of the last show.

The commissioners also will review future development plans of Westlake park for a tot lot, tenins courts and soccer fields.

Vincent also will give reports on the department's Halloween dance, teen-age carnival, community chorus' television appearance, a Christmas festival, indoor recreational facilities and "Operation Santa Claus."

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has requested space for a monthly meeting in the War Memorial Community center. The Lutheran Athletic league has requested the use of the gymnasium Saturday nights for its program.

Decoration Show Set in Pacifica

Pacifica will stage its sixth annual Do-It-Yourself Christmas Decorations show December 6-8 in the City Hall.

In addition to displays, a number of organizations once again will decorate the doors of the City Hall council chamber.

The show is sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department.

Information regarding the show may be obtained by calling the department at 355-4151.

AMERICAN TRADITIONS THANKSGIVING

The meaning of Thanksgiving in 1963 has a special significance for us this year at Omar Khayyam's, because of my heart attack on May 28th, 1963 in Allentown, Pennsylvania, after a speech I had given to a great group of true American leaders, members of Lehigh Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America.

I am particularly thankful to all my friends and patrons who kept my spirits up with their telegrams, letters and get-well cards. Although it was the true skill of my doctors and my "Angels," the Nuns and Nurses in Sacred Heart Hospital who did everything humanly possible to get me on the road to recovery. I cannot help but feel that my confinement to lie on my back for over six weeks and that four months of convalescing period makes me realize that it was not just the Doctors and Nurses knowledge that put me on the road to complete recovery, that there is something mightier and more powerful than the medical know-how. It was His wish that I shall live a little longer so I can keep on singing my "Song of America," and keep on injecting into the hearts of all Americans throughout the U.S.A. why each and every one of us should get on our knees and thank Almighty God for being an American. I wonder how many of you really know what it is like NOT to be an American? I, for one American who was not fortunate enough to be born in the United States, KNOW what it is like not to be an American.

I do not count my blessings because America has given me money, fame and fortune. I thank God and all Americans for granting me the greatest privilege in the world, that is the Privilege of Being An American.

That is why on this truly American Holiday I pray that my America should remain strong, not militarily and financially alone but most important spiritually and morally, so we can remain as a symbol to all freedom-loving people throughout the world.

Always faithfully,
With great gratitude and affection.

Orange juice, corn flakes, milk, bran muffins and butter—a "Better Breakfast Month" breakfast.

A basic breakfast pattern has been developed as a specific tool to encourage better breakfast habits. A basic cereal and milk breakfast pattern contains just five commonly eaten foods—fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. For most people, average servings of these foods supply one-fourth of the day's food needs. During the Iowa Breakfast Studies, it was demonstrated that a basic cereal and milk breakfast supplying one-fourth of the day's calories and protein is superior in maintaining mental and physical efficiency, in the late morning hours, when compared to larger or smaller morning meals. So, a light, modern breakfast can be adequate—as well as economical, convenient, and easy to prepare—when built on a basic cereal and milk breakfast pattern.

Better Breakfast Bran Muffins

2 cups whole bran cereal
1½ cups milk
½ cup molasses
1 egg, beaten
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Soften cereal in milk and molasses about 5 minutes. Add egg; stir well. Sift together flour, soda, and salt. Stir dry ingredients into bran mixture just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill greased medium size muffin pans, 2½x1¼ inches, about ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (400°F) until done, about 15 minutes. Yield: 1½ dozen muffins.

Season Sauce Sparks Pork Chop Dinner

Put a sparkle in your meals! Parade popular pork chops in a brightly colored sauce to give them invitingly festive airs.

The attractive sauce with the pork is a delectable, tart cranberry and orange combination. It adds such a seasonal look, again. Abundant supplies are available in several forms at your market. Pork is also enjoying a somewhat more plentiful cycle.

Pork-Cranberry Treat calls for raw cranberries and brown sugar to cook with the meat. The orange slices are added as the very last step. You could substitute canned mandarin orange sections, if you wish.

Remember that pork nowadays is much leaner than in years gone by. It can definitely be included in low-fat diets, states home economist Reba Staggs.

PORK-CRANBERRY TREAT

6 rib or loin pork chops, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup raw cranberries
¼ cup brown sugar, packed
2 teaspoons cornstarch
2-3 cup water
1 large orange, peeled and cut into ¼-inch slices

Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add cranberries and brown sugar. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 minutes. Remove chops to heated platter. Combine cornstarch and water and add to cooking liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add orange slices and heat through. Serve sauce over chops. 6 servings.

For that Sunday dinner, when company is expected, serve a first course of a fruit cup topped with a small ball of fruit sherbet. Frozen melon balls are delicious with orange or lemon sherbet, orange and grapefruit with raspberry sherbet.

For many years lamb was considered a seasonal meat, with the available supply concentrated in the spring. Now there is plenty of lamb available to you the year around. It lends itself to many attractive main dishes, so select lamb for mealtime variety.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the FURNISHING OF ALL LABOR, MATERIALS, TRANSPORTATION AND SERVICES required for the Construction of a STORM DRAIN ON TOWER ROAD NEAR HILLCREST JUVENILE HOME for the County of San Mateo.

2. Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications, and contract documents prepared therefor now on file with the Purchasing Agent, County of San Mateo, Courthouse, Redwood City, California.

3. Drawings, specifications, and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the Office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $25.00 for said documents, which deposits will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the drawings and specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. A complete set of drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the Office of the San Mateo County Director of Building Construction, County Office Building, Redwood City, California.

5. Bidders are responsible to see that they obtain a complete set of plans, specifications and contract documents covering the work upon which they submit a bid.

6. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished and bound in the specifications and in accordance with regulations, as set forth in the General Conditions, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for 10% of the amount of the bid as noted in said General Conditions.

7. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 3rd day of DECEMBER, 1963, at 10:00 A.M. and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 10:00 A.M. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

8. The Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, reserves the right to reject any and all bids, alternate bids, or unit prices, and/or waive any irregularities in any bid received.

9. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty days after the date set for the opening thereof.

10. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is being performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute this contract which will be awarded the successful bidder.

11. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor, and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of the Contract.

12. The prevailing rates so determined are as follows and are based on an 8 hour day, 40 hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

LOCAL LABOR:

13. It is the policy of the Owner that Contractors on public projects employ their workers and craftsmen from the local labor market whenever possible. Consistent with that policy the contractor is requested to employ his craftsmen and other workers from the local labor market whenever possible to do so. "Local Labor Market" within the meaning of this section is defined as the labor market within the geographical confines of the County of San Mateo, State of California.

WAGE RATES:

14. The Board of Supervisors has determined the rate of prevailing wages in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth below:

Pineapple Sole, a Hawaiian style entree, is an easy to prepare and very special tasting dish. The bright sweet flavor of pineapple combines deliciously with fillet of sole. Complete the dinner menu with boiled and buttered potatoes and a tossed green salad.

Hawaiian Pineapple Spears (No. 2 or 1 lb., 4½ oz. can)
1 cup pineapple syrup
1 pound frozen sole fillets, defrosted
½ cup cracker crumbs
Vegetable oil
¼ cup Macadamia Nut Chips or sliced toasted almonds
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Drain pineapple spears and reserve syrup. Marinate fish fillets in syrup drained from pineapple for about 5 minutes. Turn fillets in cracker crumbs and heat ⅛ inch vegetable oil in skillet. Cook fish until lightly browned on both sides. Meanwhile, saute and turn drained pineapple spears in a small amount of oil in skillet over medium heat. Arrange cooked fish on platter with the sauteed pineapple spears; add nuts and spoon melted butter over all. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Polynesian Pork Encore Irresistible

When you discover such a mouth-watering recipe idea as Polynesian Pork Encore, who can resist planning an extra-large pork roast for Sunday dinner . . . one certain to leave enough meat for a second meal?

Polynesian Pork Encore is a delightful entree in its own right and definitely out of the usual category of "leftover" dishes. Combined with the pork slices are crushed pineapple, green pepper, rice and a sweet-sour sauce to flavor this meat course in South Sea style.

Right now pork is enjoying a cycle of plentiful supply. A wise shopper will take advantage of the "specials" offered at her meat counter.

A meat care tip offered by home economist Rita Staggs is to chill cooked meat rapidly without letting it stand at room temperatue. Then the meat should be covered tightly and stored in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

POLYNESIAN PORK ENCORE
8 slices roast pork, cut ¼ inch thick approximately 1 pound)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup sliced green pepper
¼ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 can (8½ ounces) crushed pineapple
1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts, sliced
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
3 cups cooked rice

Melt butter or margarine. Brown green pepper and onion. Stir in cornstarch. Add pineapple and water chestnuts, stirring constantly until thickened and clear. Add vinegar and soy sauce. Arrange pork slices in bottom of an 11 x 8-inch baking dish. Spoon rice around meat slices. Pour pineapple mixture over top. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Uncover and continue baking 15 minutes or until done. 4 servings.

Treat for Company

Here is a recipe for a real treat . . . a Hurry Up Bouillabaisse, which we recommend for a Friday night company fast. Serve it directly from large chowder or stew pot in which you cook it. Whip up a fresh green salad and serve with bread to complete the hearty menu.

A touch of lemon uice is good in that salad too. Let your guests add as much as they wish from the handy plastic sitting squeeze lemon.

HURRY-UP BOUILLABAISSE
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 small clove garlic, crushed
¼ cup butter
2 cups tomato juice
1 cup water
1-3 cup ReaLemon bottle lemon juice
½ teaspoon oregano
1 6½-ounce can crab meat
1 5-ounce can lobster
1 4½-ounce can shrimp

Cook onion, green pepper and garlic in butter until tender. ReaLemon bottled lemon juice and oregano; simmer 15 minutes. Drain canned sea food; break into chunks. Add to tomato juice mixture; heat thoroughly. 6 to 8 servings.

NUTRITIOUS GRAVY

Don't throw away the appealing flavor found in the drippings from roasts. These drippings make delicious pan or cream gravies, and the nutrients found in gravy contribute to the food value of your meal.

BOYS AND GIRLS

You can be a winner in THE TIMES' 3rd Annual Kid's Christmas Contest for Boys and Girls Age 6-10. It's Easy—It's Fun! Just write The Times on the subject:

"WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME!"

Pictures (maybe of you!) of the Two Daily Winners Will Appear Each Day the Christmas Gift Spotter Is Published.

$200 Will Be Given in Merchandise Goods. Good at Any Store Advertising in the Christmas Classified Gift Spotter.

REMEMBER, THE CONTEST CLOSES DECEMBER 6th. You may enter as often as you like, so get started right away. YOU COULD EASILY BE A WINNER! The winners' pictures will be published in the Christmas Gift Spotter in the Classified Section.

MAKE YOUR ENTRY ACCORDING TO THE RULES BELOW WATCH FOR THE FIRST GIFT SPOTTER ON NOVEMBER 21ST

1. Entrants must be between the ages of 6 and 10 years, inclusive.
2. Entrants can use the necessary number of words to tell their story of "What Christmas Means to Me."
3. Winners will be selected for ideas, thought and sincerity, rather than on English, spelling or handwriting. (Drawings will not be judged.) An adult approach might be a handicap to a child's entry.
4. Children of the Times' employees are not eligible.
5. Entries will be accepted from November 3rd through December 6th.
6. Paste or attach the Gift Tag Coupon to your entry. Mail or bring your entry to The Times Classified Adv. Dept., 145 Second Ave., San Mateo, Calif.

"What Christmas Means to Me"

TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS!

DONNA MILLER
1333 OAKHURST AVENUE
SAN CARLOS, CALIFORNIA

Now that she is ten Donna says "I once thought Christmas just meant presents and goodies." She continues "Now I know what Christmas is, it's Jesus' Birthday and the best way to celebrate His birthday is by going to church, by being happy and showing it, by helping others. This is what Christmas means to me." Donna is in the 5th grade at Brittan Acres School. She likes to collect glass and wooden animals, has a real cat and dog, too.

ELEGANT!

A sudden transfer makes it possible for this office to offer you one of Hillsborough's most delightful "FAMILY" homes. Built by Lars Ek, the construction and appointments are the finest. In all there is a total of nine rooms. The high ceilinged 15x23-foot Living Room has access to the garden and 38-foot POOL, as does the paneled FAMILY ROOM with wet bar and fireplace. Adjoining the Family Room, but separated by sliding doors, is the spacious all-electric Kitchen and eating area. The discriminating hostess will be delighted with the SEPARATE DINING ROOM and the three beautifully appointed Bedrooms and baths. On the lower level, are two rooms and bath, which could accommodate family, maid, guests or could be a Play Room and Hobby Room. Gorgeous carpeting and draperies, and custom shutters throughout. Extensive paved play area for children. A MUST SEE — Price—$87,500.
